Prosperous Valley and the Marijuana

By WALTER S. CLARK

Authorities from Orange and Sullivan counties swooped down on the Prosperous Valley goose farm between Wintertn and Bloomingburg in the Town of Wallkill on Saturday and uncovered what they described as the largest yeild of marijuana ever discovered in the area.

$500,000-Million Value

They found two huge patches of well-tilled marijuana on the farm owned by 62-year-old Louis Ward on York Road. The marijuana was said to be worth between $500,000 and $1 million authorities said.

Ward was taken into custody and charged with growing and possessing marijuana. He was committed to the Orange County jail in Goshen after waiving preliminary examination. No bail was fixed.

The plants, described in excellent condition and towering as high as 12 to 14 feet, were growing on one-third of an acre near the Orange-Sullivan County line in the former county.

A tip from an unidentified hunter was received by Orange County Sheriff Wilbur K. Sherwood and Sullivan County Sheriff Louis Ratner Saturday morning. The sheriffs went to the farm area and viewed the farm from Route 17K.

Through previous arrangments they were joined by men from State Police Troop F headquarters in charge of Capt. John McCarthy and several deputy sheriffs from the two counties. As the seven cars manned by the authorities moved into the farm proper, the authorities were greeted by Ward, who was surrounded by a flock of geese.

Noticed Heavy Smoke

The raiders noticed heavy smoke pouring from a chimney of the farmhouse. They investigated and later reported Ward was using two ovens to dry and cure the marijuana.

As the police fanned out they found a patch of marijuana 20 feet wide. In an adjourning field they discovered a seeding ground for marijuana, which authorities said, was being prepared for transplanting in another area on the farm after it sprouted.

Larger Field Harvested

State Police reported the larger field had been harvested, and the rest of the plants would be ready in a few days for cutting.

In the attic of Ward's ramshackle, graying farmhouse, authorities found a canvas sheet on the floor, which they said was used for processing the plants. Scales for weighing the marijuana, plastic bags with rubber bands for packing it, were found in the cellar of the house.

Troopers and deputy sheriffs mowed down the plants on Sunday after posting guards around the area. They treated the stalks with chemicals so as not to reseed. Part of the crop was incinerated.

Ward told police, it was said, that he had rented the the field to "some men out of New York City." He said the men paid him $50 to grow what they called "birdseed."

Troopers reported that Ward remarked that if he had known the value of the plants, "I would have charged him more or sold it myself."

Orbit Life on TV As Astros Perform

(UPI)—The Apollo 7 astronauts, waving, smiling and flashing hand-lettered signs, today gave earthbound television viewers America's first 'live" glimpse of life in orbit.

A camera small enough to fit in a shoe box showed a surprisingly clear picture of Donn Eisele moving around in the center seat of America's first orbiting moonship, and Walter Schirra and Walt Cunningham on either side.

Schirra was clearly visible in the left hand seat and a portion of Cunningham was visible as Apollo 7 swept over the southern tier of the United States on the end of its 45th orbit.

Fourth Day

The astronauts, entering the fourth day of their 11-day orbital shakedown run, showed none of the reluctance to star in the nation's first orbiting television show that led them to cancel a telecast Saturday.

Their movements, as seen by the slow-scanning camera, appeared slow, as though they were floating underwater.

The astronauts lettered up a couple of signs, one reading: "Keep those cards and letters coming in, folks," and another sending greetings from the "lovely Apollo astronauts."

Eisele, grinning broadly, was seen holding the first sign as a one-minute period of blankness cleared from the screen and the picture came in, as crew chief Donald K. Slayton told them from the ground, "loud and clear."

After zeroing in on the pilots, the camera was pointed out a spacecraft window clearing showing the clouds and part of the Gulf of Mexico coastline. The 16-ton ship was over New Orleans at the time.

The astronauts made the TV transmission after clearing up a ghost-like flaw knocked out part of Apollo's electrical system briefly early in the morning. The problem appeared licked at mid-morning. If the outage had continued, the pilots would have been forced down prematurely.

Instead, they received routine clearance to fly into the fourth-day of their demanding mission. An unconditional success would clear the next Apollo team for a possible Christmas time flight into lunar orbit.

Controllers believed the power collapse was caused by a momentary electrical overload. Their remedy was to turn off fans in one of the moonship's oxygen tanks.

The problem developed shortly after midnight when the spacecraft's two alternating current (AC) distribution systems failed. Systems specialist Cunningham quickly flicked a switch to reactivate them.

The failure triggered the ship's master alarm warning system which lights a bright red light on the astronauts' control panel and sounds a buzzer in their headsets.

Causes Concern

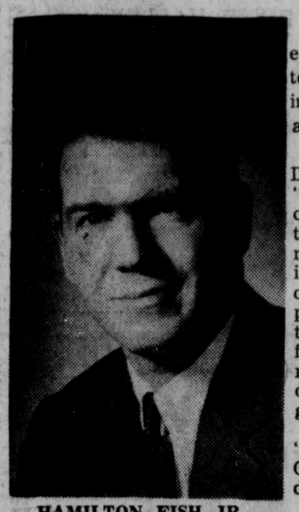

"We sound casual now," said commander Schirra in reporting the difficulty to ground control. "We were not then."

Fish Charges Dyson Distorting Facts On Expenses of Political Campaign

HAMILTON FISH JR.

JOHN DYSON

By LYNN MULVANEY

Hamilton Fish Jr. today expressed "shock" over what he termed his opponent's behavior in deliberately lying about his alleged campaign expenses.

Terming Democrat John Dyson's statement of spending "dishonesty," the Republican candidate for congressman in the 28th District said, "The moral breakdown in our society is vividly shown by my young opponent's light-handed approach to the truth. How can there be a return of respect for the law, a return of the respect for others when the son of a multi-millionaire can play games with honesty?"

"Fortunately," Fish said, "my young opponent is not in Congress to play games of deception with out tax money."

Puts Spending at $245,200

Fish, through his aid, John Barry, estimated Dyson's expenditures to date at $245,200.

The Dutchess County lawyer estimated his own expenses at "about $24,500" but said he expects to spend "a little under $50,000 by Election Day, Nov. 5.

Barry, in addressing the news conference in Poughkeepsie today where Fish made his charges, said, "First the big buy and now the big lie," referring to Dyson's statements on his (Dyson's) campaign expenses.

Barry then set out to prove his contention that Dyson had spent a great deal more than he declared.

Expenditures Itemized

Itemizing Dyson's expenditures to date, Barry indicated that the 25-year-old son of multi-millionaire Charles Dyson has spent the $245,000 in the following manner: radio commercials, $25,000; newspaper advertising, $50,000; telephone canvassing, rental of trunk line (telephone company estimate), $8,000. Also, three months salaries of New York City phone crews, $25,000; television programs, $7,000; printing. $20,000; office telephones, (60 headquarters) $6,000; mailings, $39,400; headquarters rentals, $10,000.

In addition, Barry listed staff salaries (12 persons) at $100 per week, $28,800, 150 billboards, $54,000, Mimeograph postage and news releases, $1,000.

Barry also placed what he called a conservative estimate of $6,000 for Dyson's party at the family farm this summer in Millbrook, based on Dutchess County caterers charges of $3 a head.

A Call for Honesty

"This boy is burying this district to the eyeballs in money. The only effort here is to point out this clear fact and to call for honesty in his reports of spending," declared Barry.

Barry stated further that no effort had been made by Fishs' staff to include cost estimates on such items as rental of helicopter, cost of give aways, rental of tents presently appearing in shopping centers, the cost of Dyson label beer, distributed to firehouses in the district, rental of booths at fairs and give aways such as color television.

Of his own campaign, Fish said, "It is being financed through contributions from the people; it is close to the people."

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ The Cold and Space

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP)—Doctors again are facing their old nemesis—the common cold—this time in space. And they're not happy about it.

Usually before a launch, astronauts are kept under wraps, their activity limited to the ready room, their meetings with others held to a minimum.

Not so the Apollo 7 trio. They ranged over the Cape Kennedy area. Walter Cunningham went water-skiing. Command Pilot Walter M. Schirra Jr. went hunting. Somewhere along the line they met a cold virus.

Space doctors aren't certain, but they figure Cunningham picked it up somewhere, passed it on to to Donn F. Eisele, and it spread then to Schirra who took it into space, and nursed it these last three days.

Dr. Charles Berry, chief astronaut physician, guesses that will be the end of it. Cunningham and Eisele should have some immunity left from their pre-launch bouts with the cold virus.

Of course, that all assumes they had the same virus. If they didn't, Schirra's cold could spread to the other two, but the odds are not great, and doctors are not worried even if it does. It shouldn't interfere with the flight.

Schirra's cold is already clearing up, he reported Sunday. Doctors were more worried over a shortage of decongestant pills in the spacecraft medicine chest than they were over anything else. There were only 24 to start with, and five of them went early with Schirra's cold and Cunningham's stuffy nose caused by the oxygen atmosphere. Doctors cut Schirra's dosage from the recommended one every six hours to one every eight.

Three pills are reserved for the last day, one for each astronaut. These are to insure that the astronauts have clear heads when they begin their descent to earth.

That's to forestall the kind of earaches that airline passengers get during landing. With the downward plunge of a spacecraft it can be much worse.

The Apollo 7 cabin carries a pressure of five pounds per square inch, equal to air pressure at 27,500 feet.

Below that altitude, the astronauts have to adjust to the rapidly increasing pressure. If their throat and nasal membranes are stuffy due to breathing pure oxygen, they don't equalize quickly with the earth's air pressure. The result is pain. That's why the decongestants are used before re-entry.

Dems to Give Morrison Pointers

Joe Morrison, for eight years one of the most valuable players ever to wear the uniform of the New York Football Giants is coming to Kingston to learn the fine points of the game from area Democrats.

Coach John Parete has announced that Morrison will appear Wednesday from 5 to 9 p.m. at the Kingston Shopping Plaza.

Plays for Giants

"The Democrats are bringing Morrison to Kingston for one reason. We are going to give him some of the plays we will be using so he can bring them back to coach Allie Sherman of the Giants. We are hopeful the plays will enable the Giants to streak towards a National Football League championship," Parete declared.

The versatile Morrison will talk football during his appearance here. He will also "plug" the game on Saturday between the two major political parties. The contest, scheduled for 7:30 p.m. at Dietz Stadium, will be for the benefit of the Community Chest in its goal for $345,000.

During his eight year career with the Giants, Morrison has played six different positions—defensive back, halfback, fullback, split end, flanker and tight end.

During that time, he has rushed 467 times for 1,706 yards and a 4.0 average. He has also caught 221 passes for 2,811 yards. His total of 38 touchdowns ranks him fourth in the all-time club records behind Frank Gifford, Alex Webster and Kyle Rote. His catches trail only Gifford, Rote and Del Shofner.

Joe's greatest campaign was in 1963 when he rushed for 568 yards and caught 31 passes for 284 yards more while finishing with 10 touchdowns. Twice that year, he scored three times in a single game.

His competitive history has been one of playing where's he been needed most and for the ultimate in assurance of superlative performance, the 6-1, 210-pounder has always responded with topnotch work, no matter what the position.

While Morrison receives his pointers from many of the Democratic stars, tickets for the game are still on sale.

Ticket Sales

A $4 ducat entitles the purchaser a seat at Dietz Stadium as well as admission to the victory dance at the Walnut Grove. A $7 ticket will give the purchaser a seat on the 50-yard line and admission to the victory dance.

Both sides are getting in final practice sessions prior to the big game. "We've never played two-hand touch on such a serious basis. You can be sure my boys will be more than ready to show the GOP which side has the best athletes," Parete said.

"By the way, we must be doing something right. Why else would a player with the stature of Morrison come all the way to Kingston just to get some playing tips?" the Dem coach concluded.

Gov. Chafee's Daughter, 14 Critical, Kicked by Horse

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (UPI)—The 14-year-old daughter of Gov. John H. Chafee remained unconscious and held on to life with the help of a respirator and heart stimulation today after she was kicked in the face by a horse.

Tribbie Chafee, an attractive, dark-haired youngster, suffered severe injuries to the head and spinal cord late Saturday afternoon when she slid over the back of her mount and was kicked under the chin.

Rhode Island Hospital issued four-hour medical bulletins on the girl's condition, which remained critical throughout the day and evening Sunday.

She lay unconscious in an intensive care unit using a respirator, cardiac stimulation and artificial aids to keep up blood pressure.

Chafee and his wife, who received a message of sympathy from President and Mrs. Johnson, issued a statement of gratitude Sunday to the hundreds of people who sent their best wishes.

Frank Licht, Chafee's Democratic opponent for re-election to a fourth two-year term, suspended all campaign activity and sent his sympathy to the governor's family.

The Republican governor and his wife have another daughter and four sons.

The accident to the Chafee girl was the second tragedy strike a governor's family within three months.

On Aug. 25, Becky Godwin, 14, daughter of Virginia Gov. Mills Godwin Jr., was struck by lightning at Virginia Beach. She died on Aug. 29.

Garage Fire Under Probe

A fire that destroyed a garage with gardening equipment in Mt. Marion Park Saturday night is under investigation by the County Sheriff's Office.

Mt. Marion-Ruby Fire Chief William Scheffel said the fire was in a garage next to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard B. Hickok of Plattekill Drive. The Hickoks were away for the weekend and no car was in the garage next to their home.

The fire occurred at about 7:14 p. m. Sometime later Mrs. Bertha Hickok notified the Sheriff's Office that the fire appeared to be of suspicious origin.

Deputy Sheriff John Pavlak, who investigated said the cause of the fire was undetermined and apparently started on the inside and worked out. The investigation is continuing.

Mt. Marion-Ruby Fire Company responded with four pieces of apparatus under the command of Chief Scheffel.

Crane Fall Fatal

Injured in a fall from a crane at Buck's scrap metal and iron yard in Eddyville late Thursday afternoon, Frank Whitaker, 32, of R. D. 3, Box 28, Saugerties, died at 11:40 a. m. Saturday in Benedictine Hospital.

Death apparently was due to a skull fracture and internal injuries.

Whitaker was working with his employer, Al Gersh and other workmen at the junk yard at about 5 p. m. Gersh said he was operating a crane and had just lifted and replaced a junk car when the accident occurred.

Whitaker was dangling on a chain attached to the crane when the chain became entangled in another crane. The Saugerties man lost his hold and fell about 20 feet to the ground landing on hard blacktop pavement. The injured man was unconscious when he was taken to the hospital by Doctors Ambulance.

Gersh also was injured when he jumped seven or eight feet to the ground to go to the aid of the injured employe. Gersh was treated at Kingston Hospital for leg injuries.

Shotgun Wound Fatal to L. I. Hunter

A Long Island man was shot by his own shotgun Saturday morning in the Columbia County community of Claverack while hunting rabbits with two other men.

Dominick Santello, 48, of Wantaagh in Nassau County, was shot in the right side, according to State police, when he fell on his own 20-gauge shotgun in an open field while attempting to shoot a rabbit.

Two companions, both Long Island men, took the injured man to Columbia Memorial Hospital where Santello died about eight hours later, troopers said.

Three Injured in City Mishaps, One Motorist Is Cited by Police

Three persons were injured in traffic accidents investigated by Kingston police the last two days. One motorist was cited for driving at a speed not reasonable and prudent.

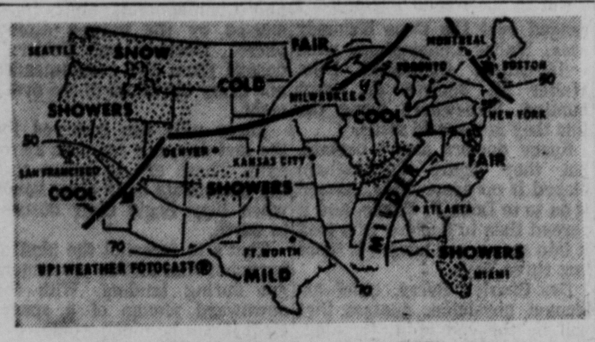

Three vehicles were involved in a chain reaction crash on Broadway at Pine Grove Avenue at 11:45 p. m. Saturday, according to police reports. Eugene L. Lowe, of 105 Hunter Street, was driving a 1962 suburban car when the vehicle reportedly hit the rear of a 1965 sedan operated by Wilma J. Bell, 30, of Box 207, South Walton Lane, Kingston, and pushed it into the rear of a 1960 sedan operated by William J. Bradford, 23, of 202 Third Avenue.

Police reports noted that Bradford, driving a car owned by Barbara A. Rougier of 106 Abruyn Street, was stopped at the time of the mishap. The woman complained of back pains, and Wilma Bell sustained a whiplash of the neck.

Lowe was cited for the vehicle and traffic violation.

At 5 p. m. Sunday, Mark Parnett, 9, of 200 Linderman Avenue, was injured when his bicycle was involved in a mishap on Linderman Avenue, with a car driven by Floyd H. LaForge, 33, of 259 Salem Street, Port Ewen. The boy was taken to Kingston Hospital and treated for an injury of the right leg.

LaForge said he was driving west on the avenue and passing the boy on the bicycle when the latter swerved into the right rear of the automobile.

Plan Parking Facility at New Paltz State

A $51,000 contract for the construction of a temporary parking facility at the New Paltz State University College will be placed for bidding on Oct. 16, Governor Rockefeller announced today.

The work, designed by Andres-Miceli-Weed, Landscape Architects of Rutherford, N.J., includes site preparation, paving, lighting, and related work.

The contract is to be completed by Jan. 4, 1969, with the exception of the seeding which has a June 15 deadline.

Proposals will be received until 2 p. m. on Oct. 15 at the State University construction fund office in Albany.

The capital construction program being carried out at New Paltz is part of the State University's multi-billion dollar physical development program directed by the State University Construction Fund.

This public benefit corporation was established in 1962 by the legislature upon the recommendation of Governor Rockefeller to expedite the construction of facilities to meet the State University's master plan requirements.

CHEST SPEAKER — Herbert M. Heckler, planning director of the Ulster County Planning Board, will be featured speaker at Tuesday morning's monthly breakfast meeting of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce. The meeting will be held 7:45 a. m. with a buffet breakfast in the Crystal Room of the Governor Clinton Hotel. Heckler will speak on planning in Ulster County, its current status and will touch on the current issue of the proposed county-wide tax mapping and reappraisal program. A question and answer period will follow the talk. The meeting is open to all chamber members, their guests and interested area businessmen.

GUNNED DOWN — Capt. Charles R. Chandler, 30, of Arcadia, La., slumps on the seat of his car after he was machined-gunned to death in Sao Paulo, Brazil, early Saturday by two gunmen who scattered pamphlets reading "revolutionary justice executes Vietnam war criminals." Chandler, a U. S. Army captain studying at the University of Sao Paulo, was gunned down in front of his home as his 9-year-old son, one of four children, looked on. The assassins got away clean in a car without license plates. (UPI RADIOTELEPHOTO).

The George Wallace Platform: Calls for Purging the Pentagon

By MIKE FEINSILBER

FRESNO, Calif. (UPI)—With 22 days left before the election, George C. Wallace has released the platform on which he seeks the American presidency. It calls for purging the Pentagon of those who "fostered the 'no win' policy in Vietnam."

Accusing politicians of practicing "minority appeasements as the country burns," the platform found the nation "beset by riots, minority groups, rebellion, domestic disorders, student protests, spiraling living costs, soaring interest rates, a frightening increase in the crime rate, war abroad and war for personal liberty at home."

Wallace issued the platform Sunday while en route to San Francisco where 10,000 persons awaited him in the Cow Palace.

In their ranks were a few hundred hippies who screamed, "Wallace is a pig!" The candidate shouted in reply that what his detractors most lacked were haircuts and manners.

Later, arriving here in a downpour for a rally scheduled for noontime today, Wallace found 75 cheering supporters waiting in the dark under umbrellas.

Wallace's platform appeared to reflect the military thinking of his running mate, retired Air Force Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, who leaves on a four-day fact-finding mission in Vietnam Tuesday.

The platform said a new defense secretary must "rid the department of defense of those who have fostered the 'no win' policy" in Vietnam.

If the Paris peace talks fail, the platform said, a swift non-nuclear victory is the answer to the Vietnam War.

The defense plank argued that "computerized defense" has weakened the nation. It promised to reform the Defense Department and pledged to "eliminate from its ranks all of those who have been party to the dissemination and promulgation of...false doctrines of security and the coercion, intimidation and punishment of all who opposed or disagreed with them."

The platform endorsed civilian control of the military but added:

"We propose to restore to their proper duties, functions and authority the leaders of our military services so that the nation may once again profit from their wisdom and experience."

The Nixon Windup— A Three-Week Blitz

By FRANK CORMIER

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP) — Richard M. Nixon promises to wind up his presidential campaign with "a three-week blitz" which he says will be designed to create "maximum momentum Nov. 5."

Nixon used the blitz phrase in an interview filmed last week for Dallas television station WFAA and made public here by his campaign staff Sunday night.

Nixon, spending a long weekend in a seaside home borrowed from Sen. George Smathers, D-Fla., is meeting today with key aides—flown from New York—to plan the final stages of his campaign.

In his Dallas interview, the candidate was asked if perhaps his campaign had already reached its peak. He said:

"This year I have always been aiming this campaign for the last three weeks. We are going to have a three week blitz in which we cover every major state very heavily . . . with personal appearances, with television . . . just watch where we are on election day, because everything that we have planned is moving toward having our maximum momentum at Nov. 5."

Nixon, in a second interview with Dallas TV station KRLD, broadcast Sunday, said his campaign is going pretty much as planned and "that Mr. Humphrey hasn't gotten off the ground as much as I thought he would."

Nixon said that third-party candidate George C. Wallace is running better than he had anticipated. He said he thought Wallace at this point would have 12 to 15 per cent of the potential vote, as measured by public opinion polls, instead of the 20 per cent or more currently being recorded.

"I think part of the reason for Wallace not going down," he said, "is that the Humphrey campaign hasn't caught on."

The candidate made a nationwide political speech over the CBS radio network Sunday night, discussing his view of Europe and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

"It's time we began paying Europe more attention," he said—after noting that President Johnson did not mention Europe in his January State of the Union message.

He said all the NATO partners should, at the very least, meet goals for NATO defensive strength set before the Czech crisis.

Humphrey Aide Charges Electoral College 'Deal'

WASHINGTON (U P I) — Hubert H. Humphrey's campaign manager charged today that "secret negotiations" have opened to give Richard M. Nixon the electoral votes of George C. Wallace if no candidate can get a majority mandate in the elections.

"It would seem that secret negotiations with Wallace lie at the root of Nixon's refusal to appear with Wallace in a three-way debate," said Lawrence F. O'Brien, who doubles as Humphrey's chief strategist and as chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

O'Brien said Nixon's refusal to share a platform with Humphrey and Wallace makes it appear that "Nixon is keeping his options open for an Electoral College deal with the third party candidate.

"Nixon thus would obtain Wallace's electors if no one wins a majority Nov. 5," he said, "and would try to seize the presidency without allowing the election to go to the House of Representatives."

Humphrey, still hoping to lure Nixon into a face-to-face debate on national television, was resuming his campaign late today.

He scheduled a speech in Evansville, Ind., tonight before going on to Kansas City. The tentative schedule for the rest of the week has him in St. Louis, New York City for the Al Smith dinner, Detroit and several cities in Connecticut.

Having shaken off a mild case of intestinal flu, which curtailed his New York City schedule Saturday, the vice president spent the weekend in strategy sessions as the campaign moved into its final weeks.

11th Hour Try on Gene

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Pro-Humphrey Democrats pressed an eleventh-hour effort today to knock the name of Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy off the presidential ballot in New York State.

It was up to a panel of judges to decide whether to permit the Democrats to intervene in the matter and whether it should be heard again in court.

On Friday, Supreme Court Justice Ellis J. Staley Jr. signed an order—returnable today—on a motion for intervention in the Appellate Division, the state's second highest tribunal.

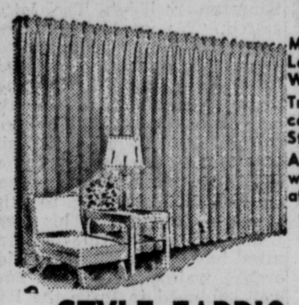

The five-judge Appellate Division, Third Department, held last Monday that McCarthy's name should appear on the ballot for the Nov. 5 election as the presidential candidate of the Coalition Party, even though he had said he did not want to be listed.

Then, surprisingly, Secretary of State John Lomenzo, who had opposed the McCarthy presence on the ballot, withdrew his suit and decided not to take the matter to the Court of Appeals, the state's highest court.

Democrats, led by State Chairman John J. Burns, reacted angrily. They charged that Lomenzo, a Republican appointee of Gov. Rockefeller, had acted out of political motives in a move they said was designed to help the candidacy of Republican Richard M. Nixon.

Through James T. Healey of Albany, a candidate for presidential elector, the Democrats asked Staley for permission to enter the case. Their objective, Healey said Sunday, was to ward off possible harm to Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's chances.

'69 Camaro SS Sport Coupe, plus RS equipment

Ask the kid who owns one.
Some people have a hard time communicating with youth.
Not us.
We just bring on the 1969 Camaro.
And then we tell it like it is.
It is: Restyled inside and out with a great new grille, new bumpers, new round parking lights, new instrument panel, new steering wheel, new striping, and new colors including Hugger Orange, which is wild.
It is: Full of new features including a quieter driveline. Bigger outlets for the Astro Ventilation. A 210-hp standard V8; lock for the steering column, ignition and transmission lever.
It is: Available with a resilient body-color front bumper, new variable ratio power steering, and (get this) a little device that washes your headlights when you hold the windshield washer button in.
It is: Still affectionately nicknamed "The Hugger."
It is: Still wider and weightier than the rival sportster we're too polite to name.
You should drive a 1969 Camaro at your Chevrolet dealer's the first chance you get.
Even if you're 42.
CHEVROLET
Putting you first, keeps us first.

Savago Asks Supporters to Back Bell

BIG BOOST FOR BELL — Peter Savago, (R) who Sunday endorsed Republican Assembly candidate H. Clark Bell, is shown with Bell at a picnic meeting of the New Paltz GOP at the farm of Ulster County Treasurer, Fred DuBois. Savago urged voters of Ulster County to work and vote for Bell.

Peter J. Savago, chairman of the Ulster County Legislature and June Primary opponent of H. Clark Bell, Republican - Conservative candidate for Ulster County Assemblyman, urged voters in Ulster County to work and vote for Bell at a meeting of the New Paltz GOP Sunday. The Republican picnic was held at the farm of Ulster County Treasurer, Fred DuBois. In his speech there, Savago said:

"As you all know, Clark and I both wanted to be Ulster County's next assemblyman. You people gave me tremendous support and I greatly appreciate it. I now ask you to give the same measure of full support to Clark and, I also will greatly appreciate this.

"Lt. Gov. Malcolm Wilson put it well in a few words when he endorsed Clark last Monday at a press conference held at the Gov. Clinton Hotel in Kingston.

"He said Clark is superbly equipped to be assemblyman and aside from the obvious advantages to the best interest of Ulster County, the election of Clark will be a major factor in the drive to restore Republican leadership to the New York State Assembly and return coordinated, responsible government to Albany.

"There are 150 assemblymen. Republicans now hold 70 seats and the Democrats 80 seats. It takes 76 votes to pass legislation.

"We Republicans need six more seats to become the majority party in the Assembly and we must retain the 70 we now hold.

"Clark is running for a seat presently held by Assembly Kenneth L. Wilson, retired Ulster County Assemblyman.

"To put it simply, Ulster County needs H. Clark Bell in the Assembly because he will be able to do more for Ulster County as a member of the Republican majority."

Bell also addressed the New Paltz gathering. Thanking Savago for the support he said, "New Paltz has long been known as one of the best Republican towns in Ulster County and it is easy to see why.

"The GOP in New Paltz can always be counted upon to do things the Republican way, the winning way, the responsible way. To each and every one of you in the New Paltz GOP and especially to Pete, I simply and sencerely say, thank you.

In another announcement this weekend, Bell said that Charles Scala of Saugerties has been appointed first legislative district coordinator for Bell in his drive for assemblyman.

Scala, graduated from St. Mary's and Saugerties High School. He holds a BBA degree in accounting from Siena College and is currently completing credits for his masters in business administration.

He is employed by the IBM Corporation as a staff systems analyst and served as a captain in the U. S. Army Reserve in field artillery.

Scala is also Saugerties committeeman and secretary of the Town of Saugerties GOP Committee. He resides at Washington Avenue with his wife, Kathleen and children, Joseph, William, Catherine and Nancy.

DEMOCRATIC DINNER — Several hundred persons turned out last night for the annual Ulster County Democratic dinner held at the Fallsview Hotel at Ellenville. Guest speaker was David Black, undersecretary of the U. S. Department of the Interior, second from right, who spoke in behalf of the local Democratic candidates and leveled a sharp attack on the candidacy of Richard Nixon. He called the Nixon-Agnew team a "national embarrassment." Left is Sheriff William B. Martin who seeks reelection; Milton Levine, Monticello attorney who is a candidate for Supreme Court Justice in the Third Judicial District, Black and Abraham Sterifer, Kingston lawyer and candidate for supreme court justice. James McCardle was toastmaster. (Freeman photo by Haines).

Martin Hits Back

Sheriff William B. Martin today corrected his Republican opponent, Thomas Mayone's recent "highly inaccurate" statements made concerning lack of training for sheriff's deputies.

Sheriff Martin stated that in his nearly three years as sheriff, a total of 3,974 hours have been spent by deputies in attendance at training schools. "During 1967 alone more time was spent on training activities than in any two previous years in the history of the sheriff's department."

Training schools used by Sheriff Martin to train his men include the FBI Training School where the men received specialized training in narcotics, photography, riot control and basic police procedures, and the Municipal Police Training School operated by the State Office for Local Government.

Sheriff Martin quoted from a letter written in May 1968 by Orrell A. York, executive director of the State Municipal Police Training Council, to a Kingston resident. The letter stated, "We would like to express our high regard for his (Sheriff Martin's) great efforts in reorganizing the Ulster County Sheriff's Office to make it a truly professional law enforcement agency. Sheriff Martin has during his rather brief tenure in this office given enthusiastic support to the ideals of training for his men. Under his leadership the deputies have been given considerable training and are now well equipped to serve the law enforcement needs of the citizens of Ulster County."

Sheriff Martin concluded by saying, "My opponent's statements are both highly inaccurate and misleading. I think an investigator should stick to facts based on evidence not hearsay. If my opponent should do this, he will have exceedingly little to criticize in the present Ulster County sheriff's office."

Sheriff Martin, who has been in office for three years has the endorsement of three major political parties, Democratic, Liberal and Conservative.

He was the first Democratic sheriff to be elected in Ulster County in a great many years.

Driver Arrested

Highland State Police arrested William D. Smith, 26, of Poughkeepsie, on Sunday and charged him with operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated. Smith posted $50 bail before Lloyd Town Justice Linn Baker and hearing was postponed until Oct. 22. The arrest was made on Route 299 by Troopers Jerry Henne and J. R. Mack.

Teachers' Union Calls Strike; Policemen Shot

NEW YORK (AP) — The teachers' union announced early today another strike of the city's public schools had begun. Just hours before, three policemen were shot and wounded while on duty outside a school in Brooklyn's Ocean Hill-Brownsville District where teacher firings had precipitated the strike crisis.

A spokesman for the AFL-CIO United Federation of Teachers said at 7:15 a.m., "The strike is on in accordance with the vote of the membership."

The action closed nearly all of the city's 900 public schools to their 1.1 million students.

The union membership voted Sunday night and into early today on a strike endorsement—by an announced 6,042 to 2,128 vote.

As that vote was being registered, an apparent rifleman-sniper fired down on the three officers from a tenement rooftop just before last midnight. Their wounds were not considered serious, the bullets striking them being deflected off a utility pole. One was released from a hospital after treatment.

More than a dozen patrol cars scoured the neighborhood in the racially tense district, and 30 detectives launched a door-to-door, cellar-to-backyard search for a Puerto Rican of about 24 believed to be the sniper. He was the object of a citywide alert.

The teacher strike in the nation's biggest public achool system was the third unscheduled student holiday in six weeks.

After teachers' union president Albert Shanker told his members Sunday night that the Ocean Hill-Brownsville experiment in local school control was "a failure," teachers took their strike authorization vote.

Outside the meeting hall, about a dozen parents picketed with signs such as "Strike 3—You're Out."

A citywide alert was issued early today for a Puerto Rican man of about 24 in connection with the shootings.

Wounded were Sgt. Robert Schatz, 32, hit in the right cheek; Patrolman John O'Malley, 33, struck in the left thigh, neck and cheek; and Patrolman Edward C. Donahue, grazed on the scalp.

Schatz and O'Malley were listed in good condition at Brookdale Hospital. Donahue was treated there and released.

More than a dozen patrol cars from nearby precincts and some 30 Brooklyn detectives were rushed to the shooting scene—alongside P.S. 155 at Herkimer Street and Eastern Parkway in the East New York section.

The officers scoured the neighborhood for the apparently rifle-bearing sniper. They said they were going door to door and covering cellars and backyards.

They also said three empty .30 caliber rifle shells were found on a tenement roof about 300 feet from the school. Also atop the three-story building was some clothing, including two suit jackets.

The alert was out for a dark-skinned Puerto Rican with long black sideburns and a small scar on the side of his left cheek. He was reported wearing a black zipper jacket, blue denim pants, a red shirt and black shoes, police said.

The man may be driving a 1962 light blue Chevrolet Impala and have a rifle with him, the alert said.

Police advised that the description had been compiled from information collected during the neighborhood search.

Police Lt. James T. Fulton, coordinating the investigation, said the three policemen would have been killed if hit by a direct shot. As it was, the shots hit a utility pole and ricocheted into them.

They had been assigned to a special detail covering locations of potential school disorders.

P.S. 155 is one of eight schools in the Ocean-Hill-Brownsville district. The 8,000-pupil district has been the center of the decentralization controversy, focusing on community control of the schools.

TWO-CAR CRASH — Operators of two vehicles were injured Sunday in a collision at the intersection of Henry Street and Clinton Avenue. Kingston police said the cars were driven by Dorothy J. French, 42, of 180 Albany Avenue and Sheldon J. Brown, 23, of 51 West Union Street. They were taken to Kingston Hospital by Fatum's Ambulance, it was reported. Neither was seriously injured. The woman said the traffic light was green in her favor as she drove east on Henry Street. Brown, police reports noted, said the light changed to yellow so fast he didn't have time to stop. Brown was cited for no inspection sticker. (Freeman photo by Powell).

Find Workshop Where Croesus Refined Gold

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — A workshop where King Croesus had his gold refined has been discovered at Sardis, Turkey, by members of an American archeological expedition.

The find, announced by Harvard University, was a refinery where pure gold was extracted and treated during the time when Croesus, the last king of Lydia in Asia Minor, made Sardis a byword for wealth and introduced the system of coinage into the marts of the civilized world.

The worshop was uncovered on the Pactolus Torrent, which according to the historian Herodotus, was famous in antiquity for its gold-bearing sands.

Croesus reigned from 560 B.C. to 546 B.C.

The scientists, representing Harvard, Cornell, and other universities, excavated the area inch by inch, recovering numerous tiny bits of refined gold—droplets, foil and gold leaf exhibiting traces of processing and working. They also recovered fragments of crucibles, blowpipe nozzles, and other gold-working apparatus.

The Youth Vote

How big and how powerful is the youth vote? Should it be judged by campus unrest, the swarms of youthful workers who surged to help McCarthy, Kennedy and Rockefeller, or even by the demonstrators in Chicago?

The U. S. Census Bureau has another and more persuasive answer. Here are the bare facts. Those who will be 24 or younger—able generally to cast a presidential ballot for the first time—number 11.7 million, almost precisely 10 per cent of the 116.6 million Americans old enough to vote.

A Census Bureau survey of persons not registered to vote in 1966 found that one-fourth of unregistered persons in the 21 to 24 age group could not qualify because of residence requirements, a higher proportion than in other age groups. That reduces the possible youthful voters by 3 million. Furthermore, the 1964 participation record even of college trained 21-to-24-year-olds was worse than the turnout of the upper age levels and in an electorate where barely two-thirds vote, one-third must be discounted for apathy. It will have its fall-off on the 21-to-24 group.

Both parties are working to capture the youthful vote, as they should. It is still formidable at something between five and nine million. But it is not overpowering, as one might have believed watching them perform for their idols in the primaries. They are just another group that must be won, no more and no less. They will pull their weight later, since the average voter is 45 years old. He and those on either side of him will make the decision.

Crowd Campaign Hazards

Though President Johnson assigned Secret Service agents to protect major candidates for President and Vice President last June, immediately after the assassination of Senator Robert F. Kennedy, they are still cautioning the candidates about the hazards of crowd campaigning.

James J. Rowley, chief of the Secret Service, personally visited each candidate and warned him that he could only be protected to the extent that he followed the advice of the Secret Service. A rundown shows that some of the candidates needed the warning.

For instance, Rowley advised against riding in an open car over a previously announced route through a built-up area. Both Humphrey and Nixon have ridden in open cars in motorcades through heavily crowded streets. In Pittsburgh, Humphrey impulsively joined and marched in a passing parade.

Other hazards include moving into an enclosed area from which no path of evacuation can be kept secure; making spur-of-the-moment changes in schedules and itinerary without informing the Secret Service and diving into crowds without keeping an interval of space for protection.

None of these risks was violated either by Senator Kennedy or Dr. Martin Luther King. Their assassinations were outside such hazards. Kennedy was struck as he took a short cut supposed to be safe. King was shot as he stood on the balcony of his motel.

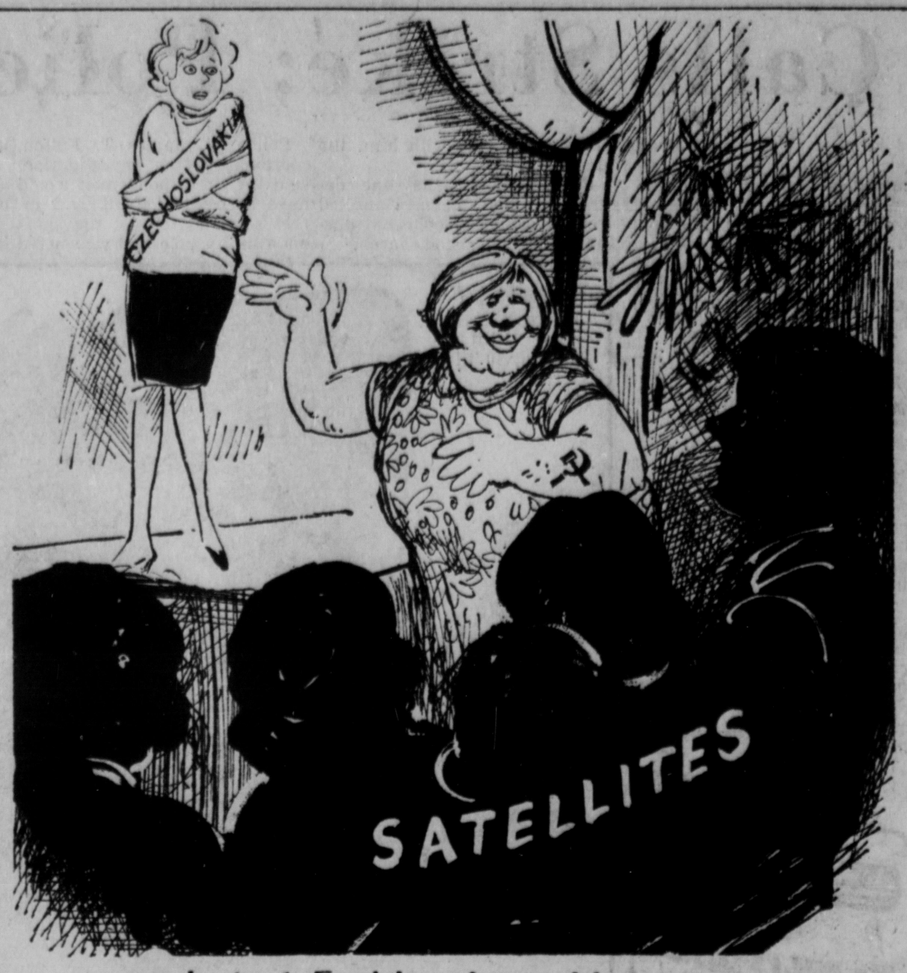

The Secret Service cannot protect against all contingencies. It does a magnificent job when it is given the chance. It does not publicize the many times it has, through its protective intelligence, saved the candidates and other high officials from attack.

Johnson Doesn't Intend To Offer New Nomination

WASHINGTON — History will record President Johnson's actions in connection with the "retirement" of Chief Justice Earl Warren and the nomination of Justice Abe Fortas to head the Supreme Court as one of the strangest episodes in the operations of constitutional government in America.

On June 13, Chief Justice Warren expressed in a letter to the President an "intention" to retire "effective at your pleasure." This in itself was an unprecedented action, because it is not within the prerogatives of the President to decide the date on which any justice of the Supreme Court should retire. In fact, the Warren letter did not create an actual vacancy, as no date was fixed for his retirement.

When President Johnson nominated Abe Fortas to be the successor of Cheif Justice Warren, it was, of course, within the jurisdiction of the Senate to examine all of the circumstances surrounding the nomination. A filibuster segment of the Senate was apparently determined not to take up the nomination, even if some little-used procedural steps had to be invoked to block it.

President Johnson, in his latest declaration, leaves open the question of when Chief Justice Warren is to retire, and does not reveal whether a new nomination will be sent to the Senate if for some reason Mr. Johnson decides to call an extra session of Congress to resume its work before January 3 — The date on which the present congress expires.

The President's statement on Thursday, however, would seem to indicate that he does not intend to offer any nomination. After declaring that he does not believe he can find a person who is "better qualified" to succeed Chieef Justice Warren than Justice Fortas, Mr. Johnson writes:

"In ordinary times, I would feel it my duty now to send another name to the Senate for this high office. I shall not do so. These are not ordinary times. We are threatened by an emotionalism, partisanship, and prejudice that compel us to use great care if we are to avoid injury to our con-

But controversies over presidential appointments do not have any relationship to whether times are "ordinary." For the opposition to the promotion of Justice Fortas was based on activities occuring while he was a member of the high court. He was accused, for instance, of having failed to respect the separation of powers as between the executive and judicial branches because he continued to act as the personal adviser of the President while serving as Associate Justice of the Supreme Court.

As for "emotionalism, partisanship, and prejudice," these would vanish overnight if the President were to select, even in the closing weeks of the present Congress, one of the judges who head the highest court in each of the 50 states.

In a sense, the President is right when he says there is a good deal of what he calls "emotionalism," but this is what many people feel is a natural resentment over the decisions of the Supreme Court. Large numbers of citizens are upset about the rulings which have permitted convicted criminals to be let loose, while powers have been usurped by the judiciary in attempting virtually to rewrite certain provisions of the Constitution.

The closing paragraph of President Johnson's statement presents a paradox. He calls attention to the fact that Chief Justice Warren has indicated a willingness to serve "until his successor qualifies," and then adds:

"Under the circumstances, the foundations of government would be better served by the present chief justice remaining until emotionalism subsides, reason and fairness prevail."

Many observers will wonder just what length of time the President has in mind. For on Jalnuary 20, a new president will be inaugurated. Certainly Mr. Johnson is hardly going to concede that under Richard Nixon "reason and fairness" would prevail.

The President's declaration, therefore, has raised more questions than it has answered. It would not be surprising if no vacancy occurs for a few years in the office of chief justice — unless, of course, Humphrey wins the presidential contest.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

One of man's duties, so I've learned, is to keep his wife reasonably happy. This is impossible, even when love is in permanent bloom, because he knows that her emotional life is akin to a runaway roller coaster. Yesterday's electrifying kiss is today's fuse breaker.

Now and then, I have read some of the feminine mystique magazines to find out exactly what will turn a wife on. I already know what will turn her off. Hawthorn Books has sent a skinny volume, written by Miss Jani Gardner of Cincinnati, entitled "How to Handle A Woman." It was ridiculous of me to assume I knew how. Miss Gardner has some wild ideas. Gentlemen, try these for size:

"Get the clock in her car fixed. Send a masseuse to her house the morning after. Hire an ugly secretary. Fluff up her pillow before she gets into bed. Ask her to meet you after work for a drink."

Take a deep breath, fellas. Ready?

"Go out for pizza at midnight. When you're absolutely sure she has no perfume on, ask her what perfume she has on. Wind her watch. Write her a note about how special she is and tuck it into her lingerie drawer. Carry her over the threshold again."

Groovy?

"Tell her she doesn't need a bit of makeup. Get her a gift subscription to Playboy. Have a jigsaw puzzle made of your wedding picture. When she finishes it, tell her you're glad she was able to get the two of you together. Don't ask who she's talking to on the phone. Buy her a pair of silk stockings and put them on her."

Watch out for ladders.

"Ask her if she'll let you brush her hair. Scold her for eyeing handsome men in the street. If she doesn't, scold her anyway. Send her a daisy with the last three petals still on it. Tell her you want to burn your marriage certificate so the two of you can live in sin. Bite the hand that feeds you."

Don't quit now, Dad. Stay with me.

"Drive to the nearest lovers' lane and make out. Don't go too far. At a party, offer her some salted peanuts and say: 'I wish they were emeralds.' Charles McArthur won Helen Hayes with that one. Paddle her somewhere in a canoe. When her dressmaker makes her hostess pajamas, get her to make a throw pillow out of the remaining fabric. Your guests will get the picture."

Yep.

"Tell her you want her to be tan all over. No lines. Put a water lily in the bathtub. Wink at her. Throw out all your pajamas, and hers. Ask her what she dreamed about last night. Go to a drive-in movie and don't watch the movie. Tell her that her classmates look much older than she does."

"Tickle her when you zip her up. Spray the inside of her car with her favorite scent. Feed her grapes—one by one.

Insure her legs for $1,000 000 with Lloyd's of London. Replace all the wire hangers in her closet with fancy plastic ones. Return her overdue library books and pay the fines."

If Miss Gardner ever marries, I want to meet him.

"Take her to a horror movie and squeeze her when it gets scary. Tell her she laughs like a little girl. Wash her back in the bathtub. Hold hands in church. Kiss the hem of her garment. You don't have to get down on your hands and knees to do this anymore. Tell her she has spoiled you."

This column should break up a few thousand marriages.

"Make her a turkey sandwich with Russian dressing, lettuce and cranberry sauce. Cut off the crusts and stick toothpicks through the four pieces. Kiss her starting from her hand to her shoulder, neck, cheek and lips. With your eyes closed. Ask her to tell you all of her sizes. She'll spend hours trying to figure out what you have in mind."

How about a neck size and twenty feet of rope?

"Now is the time to plot out your New Year's resolutions. This year will be a tough act to follow."

Not the way I played it . . .

Congress Cuts Food Stamps, Ups Millionaires' Benefits

WASHINGTON — The case against Congress was dramatized poignantly during the rush for adjournment by its treatment of the rural poor and the rural rich. In shocking contrast, Congress slashed food-stamp funds for impoverished cotton pickers, but voted more subsidies for millionaire ranchers.

An attempt to place a $2,000 limit on what a single farmer can collect from the government each year was scuttled. The behind-the-scenes maneuver illustrates how a few powerful old men can override the will of the majority in Congress.

By 230-to-160 vote, the House adopted the $20,000 limit over the protests of 68-year-old Agriculture Chairman W.R. "Bob" Poage of Waco, Tex. He also led the fight to cut back food stamps, which the poor can redeem at their country stores for needed groceries.

The resourceful Poage, however, knows how to operate in the back rooms of Congress to overcome a vote against him. He made a quiet deal with 78-year-ld Senate Agriculture Chairman Allen Ellender of Houma, La., to push through a simple one-year extension of the existing farm programs. They agreed to ignore all amendments, including the $20,000 subsidy ceiling.

Ellender was raised on a rundown, 300-acre family plantation appropriately named Hard Scrabble, and Poage was brought up on a dusty ranch in Throckmorton County, Tex. In their youth both learned what it was like to scratch a living from the earth. But old age and affluent living apparently have changed their sense of values.

In the 11 Texas counties that Poage represents in Congress, more than 37 per cent of the people are living below the poverty level. Barely one-tenth of one per cent qualify for agriculture payments above $5,000.

Yet last year, thanks largely to Poage, the one-tenth of one per cent collected $5,318,892 in government handouts. The impoverished 37 per cent collected a pathetic $224,200 in food assistance.

Rich Get Richer

In Ellender's home state of Lousiana, more than 35 per cent of the people live in poverty, only five-hundredths of one per cent qualify for farm subsidies above $5,000. Yet the tiny fraction collected a whopping $21,986,600 in farm benefits, while the 35 per cent received only $5,304,747 in food assistance.

One farm alone, owned by the Delta and Pine Land Company, collected $653,252 from Uncle Sam last year. Another Lousiniana farm, owned by the South Coast Corporation, received a $280,780 payment.

Poage and Ellender ramrodded the one-year, amendment-free extension through the Senate-House conference. Then Poage brought his neat little package, shorn of the $20,000 subsidy limit, back to the House for approval.

Under normal procedures, the House should have taken up the conference agreement first. This would have given it the option of sending the agreement back to the conference with instructions to restore the $20,000 limit.

But Poage and Ellender ignored custom and sent the conference agreement to the Senate, which approved it and dismissed the conferees. Thus the House was left with only two alternatives—either accept the one-year extension or reject the entire aguiculture-subsidy program. Enough Congressmen decided to go along with the extension to give Poage a 189-to-172 majority.

The lion's share of the farm subsidies goes to cotton growers, whose champion in the Senate is Sen. James Eastland, D-Miss. He is an out-spoken foe of government spending, except to enrich cotton farmers. Again and again he has joined forces with Ellender to increase cotton benefits.

Cotton Senator

It just happens that Eastland is one of the biggest cotton growers in Mississippi. He owns a 5,800-acre plantation which his granddaddy bought for $1 an acre but which is now worth more than $3 million.

His Eastland Plantation, Inc., collected a generous $157,930 subsidy from Uncle Sam in 1967. Another $22,314 payment was made for acreage which he owns jointly with his cousin, H.C. Eastland. In addition, H.C. got $31,120 in farm supports for land in his own name.

All told, the Eastland interests wrangled $211,364 out of the government at the same time that Eastland was denouncing government spending and decrying the waste of money on poverty programs.

There is disagreement over the plight of the 84 sharecroppers who work the Senator's farm outside the sleepy town of Doddsville, Miss. They appear to be better off than Negro tenant farmers elsewhere in the Delta region. Those who could be interviewed gave the impression that Eastland is a paternal plantation owner.

But Andrew Hawkins, a 45-year-old former cotton chopper, now chairman of the Mississippi Fredom Labor Union, tells a different story. When he was waging strikes for higher wages for farm workers were paid 30 cents an hour for a 10-hour day and that some tractor drivers earned no more than 60 cents an hour.

Workers on the Eastland plantation, he said, were so poor that they sold moonshine to supplement their pay.

Meanwhile the machinations of Eastland, Ellender and Poage have helped to persuade "Womanpower-in-Action," a coalition of women's organizations representing 47 million women, to crusade for Congressional reforms.

Fortas Lost, LBJ Should Try Again on Court Chief

By BRUCE BIOSSAT
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Deprived of a victory he did not deserve in the fight to gain Senate confirmation of Justice Abe Fortas as chief justice, President Johnson may give his adversaries victory they do not deserve if he fails to name another.

There simply was no glory for anyone in the handling of the Fortas case and nothing that has been said or done since the withdrawal of his name suggests any improvement.

If Chief Justice Earl Warren's letter of resignation is still operative (and there is no reason to believe it is not), then the President has the proper duty and responsibility to name another successor promptly.

Much is currently being made of the fact that Warren's letter did not fix a specific resignation date but made his retirement effective as of the date his successor is confirmed.

But anyone who attended Warren's rare early summer press conference, as this reporter did, could have no doubt that he thought he was resigning at the end of a full Supreme Court term and that a successor would take over this October.

In this congenitally suspicious town, it was perhaps inevitable that Warren's timing should have been looked upon by some politicians and observers as a move to deprive Richard Nixon, if he is elected Nov. 5, of a chance to name a successor chief justice.

During his decade as governor of California, Warren found his relations with fellow Californian Nixon severely strained.

They suffered badly when, in 1950, Warren ran for his third term and Nixon ran for the U.S. Senate. Warren declined to endorse Nixon, despite heavy pressure from Nixon forces.

More damage was done in 1952 when favorite son Warren learned that Senator Nixon was privately laboring to assure the Eisenhower forces of heavy support for the presidential nomination in the 70-member California delegation locked up for the governor. (The delegation never did break away from Warren.)

This reporter knew Warren well in his years as governor. He was consistently honest and candid in deed and word. Despite his differences with Nixon, there seems utterly no reason to doubt his sincerity when he told newsmen this summer he thought it sensible and logical to retire at the end rather than in the middle of a court term.

And if a visual replay of his summer press conference were possible, its intent as a farewell performance would be clear.

The argument that Warren should have waited until a new, presumably Republican, president took office, has no merit as tested against history and the president's constitutional powers.

A chief justice has no obligation to try to anticipate the election returns, and a president's duties do not end seven months before he leaves office.

But if there was no reasonableness in that argument, neither was there good sense in the conservative assault on the court which used Fortas as a ready target. Like any human agency, the Supreme Court and its members have shortcomings which should be criticized. But a general partisan attack seriously degrades it.

Probably, however, all these elements would not have come together to produce an almost unprecedented President and Fortas themselves been guilty of bad judgment.

A president need not name only total strangers to high post. But he should have foreseen the peril in the "cronyism" charge. And the worst judgment involved his continued use of Fortas as personal consultant after his appointment as associate justice. Fortas' acquiescence in that role, and his acceptance of lecture fees.

Many unwise arguments engulfed these valid complaints. Yet Johnson should not shrink from offering a more suitable candidate.

Mao Smears 'Treason' Tar On Top Nuclear Scientists

By RAY CROMLEY
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) Contacts in Hong Kong report the top man in Red China's nuclear missile program has been arrested for treason.

Two of his closest colleagues have also been jailed for spying for the Soviet Union.

The vice president and the secretary-general of the prestigious Chinese Academy of Sciences have been charged with the same offenses.

This political ripping apart of Red China's brilliant nuclear-missile team would explain the recent slowdown in Mao Tse-tung's nuclear weapon development.

Moreover, it would indicate such serious disruption of Red China's top echelon of nuclear-missile scientists that it may be very difficult for Mao to regain his momentum in the nuclear field for some time to come.

Ch'ien San-ch'iang, director of the Institute of Atomic Energy of the Chinese Academy of Sciences, is considered the most eminent nuclear physicist in Red China. He was a collaborator of Frederic Joliot-Curie. In 1946, his nuclear work was awarded the physics prize of the French Scientific Institute. He is credited with discovering the third and fourth phases of nuclear fission.

Wang Kan-ch'ang, deputy director of the Institute of Atomic Energy, received his Ph.D. in physics from the University of Berlin in 1943. He was, from 1956 to 1961, deputy director of the Joint (Sino-Soviet) Institute of Nuclear Research in Dubna, the Soviet Union. He is a specialist in the formation of heavy mesons and hyperons in cosmic rays.

Hua Lo-keng, director of the Institute of Mathematics of the Chinese Academy of Sciences, received his D.Sc. at Cambridge University. In 1957, Hue was first-class winner in the Chinese Academy of Sciences awards for outstanding contributions in science.

For some time, China's nuclear and missile scientists were protected from the most vicious of the personal attacks that accompanied Mao's cultural revolution in most areas of Chinese life. They were a priviliged and sheltered group.

But things have changed. Revolutionary groups have been formed at most of the test sites. There are reports that revolutionary workers at the Tachaitan rocket plant have "exposed" a group of "capitalist roaders." Top ranking scientists have been forces to appear in public with revisionist placards around their necks.

The problem is, apparently, that many of the scientific group, especially those in missiles and rockets, have favored co-operation with the Soviet Union in order to take advantage of Russian technical knowhow. This apparently led to their downfall.

Nixon Continues to Hold Big Lead Over His Rivals

By GEORGE GALLUP

Copyright, 1968, American Institute of Public Opinion. All rights reserved. Reproduction in whole or part strictly prohibited, except with written consent of the copyright holders.

PRINCETON, N.J., Oct. 9 — At midpoint in the presidential race, Richard Nixon continues to hold a substantial lead over Hubert Humphrey and George Wallace. Nixon wins 44 per cent of the vote of the electorate to 29 per cent for Humphrey and 20 per cent for Wallace.

For the first time in five successive national surveys since July, third party candidate Wallace has failed to register a gain. His vote increased from 16 per cent in July, to 21 per cent in the survey conducted prior to the latest.

Similarities With 1948

Although Nixon holds the lead, enough similarities are found between the present campaign and the one waged by President Truman against Thomas Dewey in 1948 to give the Humphrey forces some comfort and hope.

Millions of voters still are either not certain about their choice or have not yet made up their minds. And many of these voters are Democrats who might be brought back into the party fold, as they were in 1948.

Vice President Humphrey has lost many voters who normally vote Democratic to Richard Nixon and George Wallace. Similarly, in 1948, President Truman in the early days of the campaign was losing Democratic voters to Thomas Dewey and to Henry Wallace and J. Strom Thurmond.

Truman Won Defectors Back

Truman's hard-hitting campaign in 1948 won back many of these defectors. He was helped in this by a grain storage crisis that hit the rural areas of the Middle West in October of that year.

But there is an important difference between the present campaign and the 1948 campaign: Truman gained steadily from September to election day in every Gallup survey conducted in that campagin. Starting as far behind as Humphrey in the present race, President Truman narrowed the gap from week to week. In the final days the trend carried him over the top.

In the present race, no such gains have been registered by Humphrey in the first full month of campaigning. The possible effect of his speech in which he made important peace proposals is not reflected in today's findings, since they are based upon interviewing made just prior to his nationwide television broadcast on Vietnam.

The latest results, based on interviewing conducted at the end of September, show little change from those recorded in a survey taken one week earlier. Here are the latest results, based on the views of 1158 registered voters, and the trend:

September 27-30
Nixon	44%
Humphrey	29
Wallace	20
Undecided	7
September 20-22
Nixon	43%
Humphrey	28
Wallace	21
Undecided	8
September 3-7
Nixon	43%
Humphrey	31
Wallace	19
Undecided	7

HHH'S Best Region Is East

Nixon leads Humphrey by fairly wide margins in all regions of the nation outside the South. The gap between the two men is smallest in the East.

Regional patterns have changed little since the campaign began, and Waallace continues to hold a lead over both Humphrey and Nixon in the 13-state region of the South.

The undecided vote, a key factor in every presidential race, has consistently been highest in the East during this campaign.

It is important to bear in mind that results for each region apply to the region as a while, not to each state within the region. Thus Humphrey might have the lead in individual states within a region even though Nixon has the overall lead.

The results of the last two national surveys have been combined in order to provide a larger sample base on which to report, as follows:

Vote by Regions

	Nixon	HHH	Wallace	Other Undc.
	%	%	%	%
East	44	31	14	11
Midwest	48	27	17	8
Far West	48	32	12	8
South ...	33	21	38	8

Defections Still Hurting HHH

Humphrey's failure to make significant gains nationally reflects his problems with defections within his own party.

A combination of the last two national surveys shows 17 per cent of Democrats defecting to Nixon and 20 per cent to Wallace.

Nixon, on the other hand, is not having comparable problems of defection. Only 4 per cent of Republicans are defecting to Humphrey and only 8 per cent to Wallace.

Bombing Halt Was Planned

By ROBERT BOYD

NEW YORK — Twice in the last four months President Johnson was on the brink of halting all bombing of North Vietnam, it was learned here.

Each time, he changed his mind.

The President now apparently has no intention of stopping the bombing, as long as he is in office, unless Hanoi meets his terms by agreeing of descalate the war.

Preparations for the first of the two proposed bombing halts were under way in July, according to a source in a position to know the story.

This is how he tells it:

Almost all high officials of the administration were convinced then that the President, realizing the Paris talks were stalled and that time was running out for him to achieve peace in his term of office was about to issue a stop order.

Sharing this view were W. Averell Harriman and Cyrus Vance, the U.S. peace negotiators at Paris; George Ball, then U.S. Ambassador to the United Nations, now a Humphrey adviser: Defense Sec. Clark Clifford and Hubert H. Humphrey.

The President wanted to wait, however, until he met South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu at Honolulu.

He planned to tell Theiu, who opposes bombing halts, what he was going to do. Then he would wait a few days before announcing the new peace initiative.

Then came the mid-summer L.B.J. — Thieu conference at Honolulu, and something changed Mr. Johnson's mind. To the disappointment of many in the administration, the bombs kept falling.

Only a few weeks later, however, a bombing halt again seemed very close.

It was mid-August and the President was secretly negotiating with Soviet leaders for a summit meeting in Moscow.

L.B.J. wanted to go to Russia as a peacemaker to cap his years in the White House.

The Russians let it be known, however, that it would be hard for them to receive an American president while U.S. planes were bombing one of their "socialist" allies.

Many Washington officials thought Mr. Johnson was so eager for a summit that he would halt the bombing to get it. A new announcement was readied.

But the Czech invasion occurred, and a summit was out of the question. The bombing of North Vietnam was again judged on its own merits, as the President saw them, and the planes kept flying.

Capt. Charles Robb, the President's son-in-law now serving with the Marines in Vietnam, reportedly has written a number of long, passionate letters defending the bombing.

LeMay Headed for Viet Tour; Favors Resumption of Bombing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Retired Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, who declared over the weekend he favors resumption of full-scale bombing of North Vietnam, leaves tonight on a four-day war-zone inspection trip for presidential candidate George C. Wallace.

LeMay, after addressing the Women's National Press Club, will go to San Francisco first, leaving from there about 10 p.m. for the 23-hour flight to Saigon.

He is due to return Saturday in time to brief Wallace before the American Independent party candidate makes a nationwide television appearance the following day.

The former Air Force chief of staff, whom Wallace tapped as his running mate nearly two weeks ago, said Sunday he "very definitely" favors resuming bombing of North Vietnam on the scale it was done before March 31.

President Johnson restricted the bombing on that date to the Southern panhandle area of North Vietnam.

"We've set up all these sanctuaries . . . thereby telling the enemy that they're safe under those circumstances," LeMay said.

He also said he thinks the Port of Haiphong should be closed, but he left it up to the American military commander in South Vietnam how to do it.

LeMay plans to talk to American commanders in the war zone during his trip and also plans to question fighting men in the ranks to see how they feel about the war.

In Wallace's party platform, released Sunday, he urges patience in seeking a negotiated end to the war, but says if that doesn't work conventional military weapons should be used in an allout effort for victory.

This is what he has been saying in campaign appearances across the country and LeMay has said he agrees.

In an interview last week, LeMay said he sees no place—Vietnam or elsewhere — where nuclear weapons should be used now. But he said there is a possibility they might be needed somewhere in the future.

The retired general was interviewed Sunday on the NBC radio-television program "Meet the Press."

Asked about the Paris peace talks, LeMay said "I firmly believe that we're not going to get anywhere at the negotiating table until the Communists are forced to do something positive in nature."

"I think we have to do a little more arm twisting," he said.

Life on TV As Atros Perform

the same way one on the moon would track an Apollo mothership in lunar orbit before blasting off for the return to earth. The lander must know the Apollo's position to rendezvous with it.

The initial telecast from Apollo 7 originally was scheduled for Saturday, a day after launch, but Schirra abruptly cancelled the show. He said the crew was too busy and it would "foul up" the astronauts' activities.

The cause of the electrical problem remained unknown as Apollo 7 soared into the final hours of its third day in space. Schirra, Eisele and Cunningham went on a "witch hunt" to find it.

Flight director Eugene Kranz said the AC system that failed powered all of the motors in the 16-ton spaceship, but such a failure would not hamper the craft' return to earth. Earth landing operations are run off the ship's direct current (DC) system.

The AC system had acted up twice before, but to a lesser degree.

Kranz said there were a number of things that could have caused the trouble. He told an early morning briefing that several spacecraft motors starting at the same time, for example, could overload the system and cause it to fail.

Kranz said the crew "is performing outstandingly."

"This is now the third day of the mission and we're ticking off every test like, gee whiz, like we've done it a thousand times and this is the first time. It's going great."

Drivers Summoned

Dennis L. Alexander, 27, of Box 187, Port Ewen, was summoned by Kingston Police to appear before City Judge Hubert A. Richter on charges of speeding, failure to produce a registration certificate and unsafe tires. Norman C. Witthoff, 26, of 409 East Chester Street, was booked on charges of being an unlicensed operator and failure to produce a registration certificate.

Burglars Net $1,000 at Catskill Lanes

Catskill Police investigated a burglary Saturday at the Hoe-Bowl Catskill Lanes on West Bridge Street on the outskirts of that village which netted approximately $1,000 in cash and other articles.

Police said the place was checked by patrolmen at 4 a.m. Saturday and everything was secure at that time. At 8 a.m. it was discovered the place had been entered and burglarized. A side door had been pried open with a bar and once inside the building the burglar-or burglars smashed open cigarette and other vending machines and took the cash.

A small safe in the office was ripped open with a bar or some other implement, police said. The cash was taken from the safe and the police said the loot totaled about $1,000 in cash.

Preliminary investigation was made by Patrolman Chester Herringshaw.

Four Persons Electrocuted

NEW CUMBERLAND, W. Va. (UPI)—Four persons, including a father and his two teen-age daughters, were electrocuted Sunday when a metal tower they were erecting came in contact with a high tension line.

The bodies were discovered by the girls' mother upon her return from a shopping trip.

The victims were Hubert N. Cain, 40, New Cumberland, his daughters, Diana Kay, 18, and Janet Lee, 15, and Cain's brother-in-law, George M. Risbin, 44, of Weirton.

Authorities said the weight of the 60-foot tower apparently caused the four to lose control as they attempted to stand it upright and it tipped to one side, touching the high tension line.

Authorities said Cain was planning to place an antenna for a citizens band radio transmitter atop the tower.

Memoriam

In loving memory of our daughter and sister, Marie Horvers who passed away two years ago today, October 14, 1966.

In all the world we shall not find
A heart so wonderfully kind,
So soft a voice, so sweet a smile,
An inspiration so worth while,
A sympathy so sure, so deep,
A love so beautiful to keep.

Pacific Northwest Nixon Country

SEATTLE (UPI)—Richard M. Nixon's campaign leaders have already hung a "reserved" sign on the Pacific Northwest's 22 electoral votes and turned their sights on electing more Republicans to Congress.

The four Northwest states—Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Alaska—are Nixon country. Never has a Republican ticket including Nixon failed to carry all four.

Although the presidential candidate cautions his supporters he is not completely "safe" in Washington and Oregon, Republican leaders have turned to Senate and congressional races as possible dividends of a Nixon victory.

Running Scared

Senators Wayne Morse of Oregon and Frank Church of Idaho, two of the earliest and most outspoken Vietnam doves, are running scared. A third dove, Alaska's Ernest Gruening, was cut down in his state's primary election.

In races for four Senate seats up this time in the Northwest, only Washington's Democratic Sen. Warren G. Magnuson the Senate's seventh ranking member, appears safe.

Washington, which has nine of the Northwest's electoral votes, represents Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's best hope in the area. But key Democrats concede he trails Nixon. Reliable Republican sources advised Nixon he will carry Washington by up to 100,000 votes.

The GOP hopes a big Nixon victory will spill over into the congressional races and give them a majority of the state's even seats.

GOP Keynoter

Aside from the Nixon-Humphrey match, focal point of interest in Washington is the gubernatorial race where Gov. Dan Evans, the GOP convention keynoter, is opposed in his second-term bid by three-term Atty. Gen. John J. O'Connell.

In Oregon, attention is focused on the Senate race between Morse and State Rep. Robert Packwood, 36, a Portland attorney.

Morse, at 67, a political enigma who has wandered across the political spectrum from Republican to independent to Democrat, is seeking re-election to a fifth term.

He barely outpolled hawkish former Rep. Robert Duncan in Oregon's spring primary and now faces stiff opposition in the general election from Packwood.

While the hawk-dove subject has not been injected into the race, Packwood is hoping to pull some of Deuncan's supporters into his own camp to counter the state's Democratic registration edge.

Slight Edge

The hawk and dove question is very much at issue, however, in 44-year-old Church's battle in Idaho against two-term congressman George V. Hansen. Church, who is seeking a third term, has a slight edge at this stage.

The Church-Hansen Senate match shares the spotlight in Idaho with a three-day battle for Hansen's second district seat—a race which includes Joel Anderson of the American Independent Party.

Anderson could siphon off enough conservative Republican votes from state Sen. Orval Hanson, the GOP candidate, to throw the election to liberal Democrat Darrell Manning.

In Alaska, the third-man theme runs more through the race for senator than it does through the presidential test, since Nixon again has a wide lead.

The third man in this case is Gruening, 81, who was beaten in the Democratic primary of Mike Gravel, 38-year-old Anchorage real estate developer.

Gruening has mounted a write-in campaign which, although it is now stalled in court, would probably hand the Senate seat to Elmer Rasmuson, an Anchorage banker, who is the Republican candidate.

New York's 43 Electoral Votes Goal of GOP Campaign Planners

ALBANY, N.Y., (UPI) — Republican campaign planners have called out the party's big guns and set their sights on New York's 43 electoral college votes.

The electoral college vote is regarded as a key to a Nov. 5 election victory for former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and his running mate, Gov. Spiro Agnew of Maryland.

Stressing party unity, GOP leaders have called up reserves from out of state to augment a blue-ribbon list of campaigners in New York.

Governor Rockefeller will be contributing the signal - calling for the reserves — Govs. George Romney of Michigan; John A. Volpe of Massachusetts; Raymond Shafer of Pennsylvania and former Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania.

Republican oratory this year appears likely to outdo any heard in former presidential contests.

Campaign strategists dipped into Illinois and drafted Rep. Donald Rumfield. The draft also included Sen. Edward Brooke, of Massachusetts.

With the election convoy set to move into high gear soon, other leading Republicans on the state level will be taking the stump for the national ticket.

Answering the call to duty, are Sens. Jacob K. Javits, seeking re-election and Charles Goodell, of Jamestown, recently appointed to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

The list is a long one, and includes such veteran campaigners as GOP State Chairman Charles Schoeneck of Syracuse; former State Chairman Carl Spad; Atty. Gen. Louis Lefkowitz; State Motor Vehicle Commissioner Vincent Tofany; Secretary of State John Lomenzo and legislative leaders Sen. Earl W. Brydges and Assemblyman Perry Duryea.

As one GOP spokesman said: "There will be no demilitarized zone, we'll fire where the Democrats are vulnerable."

In addition to aiming for a presidential victory, the gunners will be shooting for a return to Republican control of the State Assembly and adding to the party's congressional delegation. Republicans are given little chance of winning Congress.

Meanwhile candidates of both parties have been getting considerable exposure in the state.

Democratic vice presidential candidate Edmund Muskie campaigned in Syracuse this week and accused Nixon of seeking power and disregarding the people.

Charged With Slaying

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — A 28-year-old Rochester woman was charged with first-degree manslaughter Sunday in the pistol-slaying of Albert J. Cooks, 26, in her apartment Saturday afternoon.

Mandy L. McMillan told police she and Cooks, also of Rochester, argued because he would not let her go to a party. She said Cooks threatened her and began to beat her and her son.

Three Killed In Rt. 17 Crash

HILLBURN, N.Y. (AP) — Three persons were killed in a head-on collision of two automobiles Sunday afternoon on Rt. 17 in this Rockland County community.

Dead are Robert H. Stoneker, 49, of Sloatsburg, N.Y., the driver of a northbound car; his wife, Jeanne, 48, and Rosalie C. Duford, 75, of Mt. Dora, Fla., both passengers.

Albert Ricketson, 60, of Middlesex, N. Y., the driver of a southbound car, was admitted to Good Samaritan Hospital.

Use Savings Bonds To Increase Income

Q — We're senior citizens with no other income than Social Security, interest on $9,000 in savings and loan and dividends from 25 Am. Telephone. We own our home and $30,000 in E bonds. How should we invest $3,000? — M.B.

A — First may I commend you for your thrift during your working years.

For maximum income from your life savings, I have two suggestions. Since you mention no heirs, you might cash all or part of your E bonds to purchase a joint and survivor annuity contract. You should discuss the details with the representative of any nationally recognized insurance company licensed by your state. This annuity would provide a guaranteed monthly income to you both until the death of one partner and thereafter to the survivor. If this is your decision, keep the $3,000 in the savings bank to cover possible emergencies. If you have heirs to consider, I'd exchange E bonds for interest, but if converted into H bonds, the interest on the latter will be paid to you every six months by check from the U.S. Teasury Department. The yield the first year is over 3 per cent. If held to maturity the total yield at the new rate is 4.25 per cent. If you choose this course of action, you could place your $3,000 in Am. Telephone or in Tenneco. Each offers the double advantage of income and expected growth.

Q — Due to my husband's death, is it best to close our margin account of $3,500 or let it ride? The account includes 50 Equitable Gas and 200 Ohio Edison. — H.M.

A — With no other knowledge of your financial situation, I'd say cut your expenses by closing your margin account. Obviously you have a good profit in your two utility stocks. If you are able to pay the margin debt in full and hold the stocks for income, I would do just that.

Scotland Yard Checks Into Museum Fire

LONDON (AP) — Scotland Yard detectives poked through a mass of charred wreckage today trying to determine if protesters against the Vietnam war set fire to Britain's Imperial War Museum.

Fire burned out the 120-foot dome of the museum Sunday night, but an official said most of the priceless collection from the two world wars was saved.

Officials said the fire was the work of an arsonist and was started by two incendiary bombs, one hidden in the dome and the other thrown through a ground-floor window.

Leaflets circulated in London last week urged demonstrators to make grenades and firebombs and assemble for a massive anti-Vietnam protest Oct. 27. But Scotland Yard said investigations so far showed "absolutely no connection" between the leaflets and the museum fire.

The museum's huge copper-sheathed dome was wrecked by the blaze that erupted after an explosion before midnight. Firemen battled the flames in a scene watched by thousands of bystanders and reminiscent of the wartime blitz. Two firemen were injured.

Despite the damage, the museum was reopened to the public today while detectives and fingerprint experts worked inside. The dome was still smoldering.

Hunter Wounded

While hunting pheasants on the Joseph Dembroski farm in Plattekill at 3:45 p.m. Saturday, Gary Lee Dickson, 17, of South Street, Highland, was accidentally wounded when a companion shot at a bird. Dickson, according to Kingston State Police, was taken to St. Luke's Hospital in Newburgh, and treated for pellet wounds of the legs. He was admitted for further treatment and observation.

According to a report of BCI Investigator Fred Grunewald, Dickson and Kenneth Paltridge, 18, also of Highland, were in the Dembroski orchard when a pheasant took off from a heavy growth of buckwheat and tomatoes. Paltridge shot at the bird and pellets hit Dickson.

Quits Monastery; Killed by Teen In Speeding Car

NEW YORK (UPI) — A 36-year old man who left a monastery three months ago was killed Sunday when a 16-year-old boy in a stolen car ran a red light and smashed into his car at more than 50 miles an hour.

Police said James J. Curran, who was a monk in Lady Gensfee Abbey at Piffard, in Livingston County for eight years, was crossing an intersection when the youth slammed into him broadside.

Curran's companion, identified as Judih Tobin, 28, was taken to Montefiore Hospital where she was in satisfactory condition.

The youth, Neal Abramson of the Bronx, was treated for minor injuries. He was charged with vehicular homicide.

Abramson was being chased by two police cars when he left an expressway at 80 miles an hour and then collided into Curran's car while still going more than 50, police said.

Snipers Kill 2 Guardsmen, Arias Asks 'Total War' on Coup

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ

PANAMA (AP) — Snipers killed two Panama National Guard soldiers in a one-hour battle not far from the presidential palace Sunday night as deposed President Arnulfo Arias called on his supporters to wage "total war" against the military leaders who overthrew him.

Arias, who took refuge in the U.S.-controlled Canal Zone after the coup Friday night 11 days after he took office, predicted there would be "death and desolation" unless the military chiefs who deposed him "leave the places they control."

Guard spokesmen said two guardsmen were killed and no others wounded in the fighting in the downtown Maranon slum district. But newsmen saw three guardsmen and a civilian hit by gun fire.

A spotter plane circled overhead as guardsmen cleared the area and imposed a curfew from 9 p.m. to 5:30 a.m. Crowds were dispersed without difficulty and quiet settled over the city as the curfew went into effect.

The Guard is Panama's army.

In a broadcast message taped for a clandestine radio station, Arias said: "The time for action has come. To the streets, men and women of my country. This is the moment for going out on the streets to fight. The order of the day is to take up arms against the little group of military traitors of the fatherland."

Earlier Sunday, Col. Jose M. Pinilla, who led the coup, was sworn in as provisional president and said his government would remain in power only until conditions permit the restoration of civilian authority.

"We do not believe in staying in power indefinitely," he said. "This is but an historical parenthesis which would end as soon as the conditions of law and order are restored."

Pinilla named eight civilians from all three major parties to his cabinet.

The new government said Arias was overthrown because he attempted to "destroy representative democracy." The message said Arias violated the constitution by removing a Supreme Court justice and sought to alter the National Guard's chain of command.

Informed political sources said Arias tried to move too quickly to fill important government and military positions with his own people. These included naming his military aide, Lt. Col. Luis Carlos Diaz Duque, to head the presidential guard, a decision normally made by the National Guard leaders, and the unexpected announcement after it had been agreed that Pinilla would become the guard's new commander.

Negro Major Transferred; Blasted Army for Racism

By ROBERT D. OHMAN

SAIGON (AP)—A Negro major charged on Sunday that the "American military services are the strongest citadels of racism on the face of the earth." Today he was transferred to a new job and said he was happy about the change.

The Army officer, Maj. Lavell Merritt of Chicago, said he had asked some time ago to be transferred from the training section of MACV, the Military Assistance Command Vietnam, because he said there was discrimination in the section. He said he was transferred today to MACV's operations section.

Merritt, 40, gave newsmen an eight-page statement Sunday in which he told of Negro officers laughing when a white officer "tells the funniest nigger story he knows."

"The black military officer group is the largest collection of identifiable accommodationists in America," he said. "The real tragedy, of course, was in our self-denial of manhood."

Sources at MACV headquarters said they understood Merritt had requested a transfer several weeks ago "because he was unhappy there." They said he became eligible for promotion to lieutenant colonel in 1966 but was passed over three times.

Merritt said he will complete 20 years in the Army in January "and I'll have to take my retirement then." Other officers said Merritt as a reserve officer is required to retire on completion of 20 years of service.

MRS. JAY WILLIAM MOLYNEAUX
(Mason Studio)

MRS. SCOTT PAUL YAEGER
(Bolster Photo)

Miss Kathleen Mary Linehan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Linehan, Breezy Hill Road, Rosendale, became the bride of Clifford B. Schoonmaker Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford B. Schoonmaker Sr., Pine Bush Road, Stone Ridge, on Sunday, Oct. 6, at St. Peter's Church, Rosendale.

The Rev. Robert Saccoman officiated at the double ring ceremony. Mrs. I. Wisneski, organist, accompanied Mrs. Eleanor Sweeney who sang traditional wedding selections. Arrangements of large yellow, white and rust chrysanthemums decorated the altar.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride selected a white gown of silk velvet designed with a circlet neckline, fitted empire bodice, long tapered sleeves and an A-line skirt. The high waistline and the detachable watteau chapel train were encircled with three-dimensional Belgian lace daisies. A coronet of seed pearls held her imported illusion veil which was trimmed with daisies, and she carried a bouquet of carnations with a white orchid in center.

Miss Cathy Schoonmaker, sister of the bridegroom, Stone Ridge, served as maid of honor. She wore a royal blue silk velvet, floor-length gown and chrysanthemums. A matching velvet bow served as her headpiece.

Miss Kristin Schoonmaker, sister of the bridegroom, was an attendant. Miss Kyle Schoonmaker, another sister of the bridegroom, was flower girl. They wore pale blue velvet gowns styled identically to that of the honor attendant and they carried yellow chrysanthemums. Velvet bows served as their headpieces.

Christopher Schoonmaker, brother of the bridegroom, Stone Ridge, was best man. Ushers were Steven Linehan, brother of the bride, Rosendale; and Corey Schoonmaker, brother of the bridegroom, Stone Ridge.

After the wedding a reception for 80 guests was held at the Sky Top Restaurant, Kingston. Guests attended from Westbury, L.I.; Carle Place, L.I.; Woodside; East Meadow, L.I.; Columbus, Ohio; Jackson Heights.

For her traveling ensemble the bride chose a grey and gold plaid suit with brown accessories.

The bride attended Rondout Valley Central High School and State University of New York at New Paltz. She is employed by Carworth, Stone Ridge. Her husband also attended Rondout Valley Central High School, Boston University, and Ulster County Community College. He is presently serving with the U.S. Army, stationed at Fort Eustis, Va., where the couple will reside.

Miss Gayle Anne Elbert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Elbert, Port Washington, became the bride of Jay William Molyneaux, son of Mrs. Jay E. Molyneaux, West Hurley, and the late Jay E. Molyneaux, on Saturday, Oct. 5, at St. Peter of Alcantara Church, Port Washington.

The Rev. Father Sledges officiated at the double ring ceremony and celebrated the Nuptial Mass.

Given in marriage by her brother, Gary E. Elbert, Stamford, the bride chose an A-line, empire gown of white silk faced satin. The bodice of the dress was fashioned as a bolero jacket trimmed with pleated satin. A row of lace with pearls edged the pleating. The gown was styled with long fitted sleeves and a high neck trimmed with pleating, lace and pearls. Her detachable train was fastened above the waist. A crown of pleated satin, lace and pearls held her floor-length illusion veil and she carried a bouquet of white glamelias and stephanotis, centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. William Ahlstrom, Washington, D.C., served as matron of honor. Attendants were Mrs. Clyde Rowe, Woodstock; Mrs. Gary Elbert, Stamford, sister-in-law of the bride; Miss Janette Wilkerson, Fall Church, Va. and Portland, Oregon; and Miss Marilyn Hausmann, Maplewood, N.J. Attendants wore Edwardian style A-line, empire gowns of white moire with moss green velvet belts. Their gowns were fashioned with high necks and long fitted sleeves, trimmed with small ruffles and their headpieces were two layers of floor length moss green illusion veiling. They carried baskets of fall leaves, yellow and green spider chrysanthemums with a moss green bow decorating the basket handles.

Lee A. Molyneaux, brother of the bridegroom, Woodstock, was best man. Ushers were Clyde Rowe, Woodstock, James Elder, Kingston, and Michael Salinder, Port Washington.

After the wedding a reception for 90 guests was held at the House of McLoughlin in Roslyn.

The bride wore a black and white knit dress with a matching jacket and wide black patent accessories for her wedding trip to Puerto Rico.

Mrs. Molyneaux is a graduate of St. Mary's High School, Manhasset, and the Latin American Institute, New York City. She was employed as a secretary with the government in Washington, D. C. Her husband attended Onteora High School and the University of Miami. He served as a medic with the U.S. Special Forces and with the 101st Airborne Division in Vietnam. He is employed by Hucktrol, Inc. Kingston.

Mr. and Mrs. Molyneaux will reside in Boiceville.

Miss Deborah Gay Fade Potsdam, daughter of Col. and Mrs. Walter S. Fade, Schuylerville, became the bride of Scott Paul Yaeger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter P. Yaeger, New Paltz, on Saturday, Oct. 12, at St. Joseph's Church, New Paltz.

The Rev. Michael Biondi CSB of Aquinas Institute, Rochester, celebrated the Nuptial Mass and officiated at the double ring ceremony. Commentator at the Mass was the bridegroom's father. Anthony Aiello, organist, provided traditional wedding selections. Arrangements of white gladioli, chrysanthemums and shasta daisies decorated the altar.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride selected an ivory peau de soie gown styled with a crescent waistline and trimmed with re-embroidered sequin and pearl Alencon lace sprays. An ivory butterfly bow, outlined in seed pearls and aurora borealis, held her two-tiered finger-tip veil and she carried a cascade of ivory-colored roses.

Miss Kathleen Coleman, Albany, served as maid of honor. She wore a long-sleeved empire gown of garnet velvet with inverted pleat of pale pink satin, accented with pink satin bow. An oriental bow of garnet satin held her garnet finger-tip veil and she carried a hand bouquet of light pink carnations and garnet roses.

Attendants were the Misses Patricia K. Fade, Cynthia F. Fade, sisters of the bride; Helen Crank, cousin of the bride, Salem; and Mrs. Robert Deegan, Rochester. They wore gowns styled identically to that of the honor attendant and they carried hand bouquets of light pink carnations.

Gerald Yaeger, Rochester, was best man. Ushers were Robert Deegan, Rochester; Bruce McKinney, Highland; Paul Preo, Boston, Mass.; and William Wedekind, Schenectady.

After the wedding a reception for 130 guests was held at Villa Lipani, New Paltz.

For her wedding trip, the bride chose a brown and white wool knit coat and dress with brown accessories. She wore a white cybidium corsage.

The bride is a graduate of Balboa High School, Canal Zone, and attended St. Petersburg Jr. College, Fla. Her husband is an alumnus of New Paltz Central High School and is a senior at Clarkson College of Technology, Potsdam. He is a member of Delta Upsilon.

Mr. and Mrs. Yaeger will reside at 92 Market Street, Potsdam.

Wedding Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Myron Schoonmaker, Denver, Col. announce the marriage of their daughter, Linda, to Lt. Frank J. Stuart Jr., USAF, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Stuart Sr. of Brunswick, Ohio, on September 28, at Rose Chapel, Bergstrom Air Force Base, Austin, Tex.

Major Smith officiated at the double ring ceremony. Arrangements of white chrysanthemums decorated the altar. Larry Ernst, South Carolina, sang traditional wedding selections.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white organza, with a fitted bodice, soft A-line skirt and bell sleeves. The bodice, sleeves and chapel train were accented with appliques of lace. Her silk illusion bouffant veil was shirred to a cluster of orange blossoms and she carried a cascade of white roses centered with a white orchid.

Carol Crocker, Pittsfield, Mass., maid of honor, wore a moss green gown with a matching headpiece. Bridesmaid, Bonnie Keeling, Memphis, Tenn., junior bridesmaid, Lorraine Gompert, and flower girl, Teri Levin, both of Austin, Tex., wore gowns identical to the maid of honor in gold and moss green with matching headpieces. All carried bouquets of fall flowers of yellow, bronze, and orange chrysanthemums.

Lt. Vincent F. Andrullo, Syracuse, was best man. Ushers were Lt. Thomas Powers, Pine Bluff, Ark., and Lt. Guy Wurman, Los Angeles, Calif. Douglas Duval, Austin, Tex., was ringbearer.

The bride is a graduate of Kingston High School, Albany Medical Center School of Nursing, and is serving as a U.S. Air Force Nurse.

Her husband is an alumnus of Brunswick High School, Ohio, and received a Bachelor of Arts degree in Political Science from the University of Miami, Coral Gables, Fla. He is serving with the U.S. Air Force.

Upon their return from their wedding trip to the Rocky Mountains of Colorado, Lt. and Mrs. Frank Stuart will reside at 2217 South Lakeshore Blvd., Austin, Tex.

Deadline Nearing For Baking Contest

Men and women cooks who are planning to enter the 20th annual Pillsbury - General Electric Bake-Off should make a special note that Friday, Oct. 25, is the deadline date for sending in their favorite recipes.

One hundred finalists will be selected to compete in "Bake-Off 20" which is scheduled for February 9 to 11 at the new Regency Hyatt House in Atlanta, Ga.

The contest, however, is not limited solely to men and women. Juniors between the ages of 12 and 18 also may enter. Entry rules and entry blanks may be obtained from local GE dealer stores, each having been designated an official "Bake-Off 20" headquarters or from grocery stores handling Pillsbury products.

Finalists will compete for three divisional grand prizes, each amounting to $10,000. An additional $15,000 will be awarded to one of these winners for a grand total of $25,000 for developing the "Best-Of-Bake-Off" recipe.

Each finalist also will receive an Americana Range from General Electric; $100 cash and the expense-paid trip to Atlanta.

The Americana again will serve as the "official Range" of the Bake-Off. When the 100 units are installed and ready for operation, the Bake-Off area, in effect, becomes the "world's largest kitchen".

MUSICAL SOCIETY OF KINGSTON held an annual dinner meeting Wednesday, Oct. 9, at Governor Clinton Hotel, Kingston. Programs for the year were received and the theme for 1968-69, "Our World of Music," was announced. A Trio in E Flat by Mozart was presented by Mrs. Amos Newcombe, clarinet; Dr. Herman Ash, viola, and Mrs. Roland Tonnesen, piano. Guest speaker was Mrs. Jacqueline Marcault, pianist, whose topic was "Contemporary Scene in Music." Mrs. Marcault entered Florence Conservatory in Italy at seven years of age; she was graduated at 16 with a master's degree, and made her debut in London at 18. Mrs. Marcault has given concerts throughout Europe and America. One of her most important occasions was being accompanist with Pable Casals on his farewell concert tour in 1946. Pictured above with Mrs. Marcault, center, are Mrs. Donald MacIsaac, left, program chairman, and Mrs. Tonnesen, president. Other officers include Mrs. Amos Newcombe, vice president; Mrs. Deweese DeWitt, secretary; Mrs. Henry Millonig, treasurer. Dinner chairmen were the Mmes. John MacKinnon, Bernard Forst and Henry Millonig. (Freeman photo by Powell.)

Hints from Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise:

Here is how I make a liner for my tube cake pan.

I cut a circle of waxed paper the size of the bottom of the pan, fold it in half then into a quarter. Cut center out and then make five or six little slits from the center into the main part.

It now fits easily and perfectly over the tube of my pan.

LETTER OF THOUGHT

Dear Heloise:

Did you know when you feel nice inside, you also look nicer? Learn to be pleasant and cheerful and develop a good sense of humor.

SMILE a lot.

Praise your children and your husband often and always speak softly and kindly.

To follow this makes everybody around you happier and you will be happier yourself.

American Pediatrician Waging One-Woman Fight to Change Many Old Italian Habits

Woman's View

By BRENDA W. ROTZOLL

ROME UPI — A quiet-voiced American pediatrician named Eve Landsbere - Lewin is waging a one-woman fight to get Italian babies out of woolen undershirts and into bed before midnight.

Too many clothes and too late hours for children are among the most widely encountered habits the gray-haired doctor is trying to change in this country where she studied medicine after fleeing Nazi Germany.

"Italians do a great deal of overclothing," she said. The babies sweat so much after all those clothes and the minute a breeze comes along, they sneeze. If they were dry as our American children are, they wouldn't sneeze.

"There isn't a baby in Italy that doesn't wear a wollen undershirt — which causes a rash — and a yards-long tummy band," she said.

Another thing for which she is fighting: "To get all the kids into bed before midnight."

Divided Work Day

Because of the divided work day in southern and central Italy, fathers do not get home to dinner until perhaps 9 p.m. They want to see their children and have dinner with the family so it is 10:30 or 11 p.m. at the earliest before the children start to bed.

An American idea which the pediatrician says doesn't go well in Italy is demand feeding. Hospitals tell the parents to feed the child on schedule — and for nursing mothers to weigh the child before and after feeding to see how much it ate.

In America, babies receive various immunization shots at the age of two or three months. "In Italy, diphtheria and tetanus shots come at eight or nine months," she said, "by which time many children have died of diptheria."

The doctor left Germany in 1933 in her second year of medical training, when the Nazis killed her father, a doctor. Citizenship restrictions elsewhere in Europe brought her to Italy to study. Days after she took her final examinations Italian restrictions on medical practice changed, too.

"So I went to the United States. It was the only door left open," she said.

It was a wide-open door. She did research in pediatrics at Johns Hopkins in Baltimore, interned at the Jewish Hospital of Brooklyn, joined the New Public Health Department, wanted to join the war, and wound up a major in the United States Army.

$10,000.00 EXTRA CASH INCOME

whenever you or any of your family go to the hospital

★ Pays $100.00-A-WEEK TAX-FREE CASH for each week you spend in the hospital... even up to 100 weeks

★ PAYS IN ADDITION TO ANY OTHER COVERAGE YOU HAVE ★ No age limit—no medical examination required ★ No salesman will call

★ Checks are sent directly to you; money may be used any way you see fit ★ Pays up to $10,000.00 tax-free cash for each hospital stay

Act Now—GET FIRST MONTH'S PROTECTION FOR THE ENTIRE FAMILY FOR ONLY $1

THEN YOU MAY CONTINUE AT WORLD MUTUAL'S REGULAR LOW RATES.

Money back in full if not 100% satisfied. Apply NOW by date shown in your Enrollment Form below.

ONE OUT OF TWO FAMILIES will have someone in the hospital this year! It could be you—or some beloved member of your family, tomorrow... next week... next month. Sad to say very few families have anywhere near enough coverage to meet today's soaring hospital costs. These costs have TRIPLED in just a few short years. They are expected to DOUBLE AGAIN in the few years ahead.

Stop for a moment. Think how much a long stay in the hospital will cost you or a loved one. How would you ever pay for costly but necessary X-rays, doctor bills, drugs and medicines? What would you do if your pay check stops, but living expenses go right on—rent, phone, food, all the day-to-day expenses that never stop? What is the average breadwinner to do?

Now you can receive $100.00 a week tax-free cash, from the very first day you enter the hospital for as long as you are confined there—even for 100 full weeks, if necessary!

This new plan relieves you of worry about the terrible financial threat of accident or illness. But you must apply during this limited enrollment period BEFORE the date shown in your enrollment form below.

THIS LIMITED ENROLLMENT OFFER ENDS SOON

Only $1 for first month for entire family — money-back guarantee.

To encourage you to see how much this Plan can mean to you and your family, we make this unusual, money-saving offer:

You can now have your first month's protection for your entire family for only one dollar! Then, continue at World Mutual's low rates. But, you must act immediately, because this unusual opportunity is offered for a limited time. Your request for this wonderful Income Protection plan must be mailed on your convenient enrollment form below NOT LATER THAN MIDNIGHT, of the date in your Enrollment Form.

This midnight expiration hour cannot be extended. If your enrollment form is mailed later, it cannot be accepted.

These are the ONLY exclusions!

The new World Mutual Plan covers every conceivable kind of sickness and accident except, of course, hospitalization caused by mental or nervous disorders; act of war; pregnancy, childbirth or miscarriage; expenses resulting from any sickness or injury you had before the policy Effective Date (during the first 2 years only); or where care is in a Government hospital. Everything else IS covered.

How can $1 buy so much?

You can buy ordinary insurance at any time and pay the regular rates, if you wish. But World Mutual can now provide you with tax-free Income Protection for just $1 the first month for the entire family ONLY BECAUSE WE ENROLL A NUMBER OF PEOPLE AT ONE TIME—direct by mail! This highly efficient "mass enrollment" method cuts costs to the bone. We are able to issue thousands of policies in a few short weeks—rather than spread the procedure over many long months—or even a year. Our overhead and processing expenses are reduced drastically—and the savings are passed on to you!

After your first month's protection, you may continue at World Mutual's regular low monthly rates—and the rate you pay now will never be increased because you grow older!

PAYS YOU CASH ...$100.00-A-WEEK tax free cash starting your very first day in the hospital. No waiting period!

PAYS YOU CASH ...to a maximum of $10,000.00 any time you go to the hospital and stay for as long as 100 weeks.

PAYS YOU CASH ...Money mailed directly to you — not to the doctor or hospital.

PAYS YOU CASH ...you get $100.00-A-Week in addition to whatever you receive from Medicare, Workmen's Compensation or any other insurance.

IF YOU ARE 65 OR OVER YOU WILL COLLECT IN ADDITION TO MEDICARE

Why are smart folks over 65 now hastening to protect themselves with The World Mutual Plan in addition to what "Medicare" will do for them?

Even though Medicare is a great boon to folks over 65, it will not, of course, pay all the bills that quickly pile up as a result of illness or accident.

Regardless of your age, you will still need additional health protection.

We have designed this plan as the important addition to what you receive from Medicare—or any other health insurance you may have.

Remember, all checks will be sent directly to you, to give you that "extra" help just when you need it most—to help pay any bills you choose. Best of all, your World Mutual protection will pay even for 100 weeks, if necessary!

What would happen to your family?

The chances are one in seven that you will spend some time in the hospital this year. A fall on the stairs, in the bathtub, or on the sidewalk—a sudden illness or operation—could lay you up for weeks, months, perhaps even years.

Right now, you probably have some hospital coverage. You may think you're "safe" from all the financial burdens of sickness and accident. But hospital coverage usually takes care of only part of your expenses.

Can you afford the soaring costs of doctor, surgical, and nursing bills? Can you afford missing your weekly paycheck during the time you're laid up in the hospital? Even though you probably have some protection now—will it be enough? Sickness, accidents, hospitalization, cost many people their savings, their cars, even their homes. Don't take chances with your financial security. Now for only pennies a day, YOU can enjoy the added protection, the peace of mind, the freedom from worry that this new World Mutual $100.00-A-Week Extra Income Health and Accident Plan WNL-1-667R offers.

The added protection you NEED!

All benefits of this World Mutual $100.00-A-Week Income Protection Plan are paid directly to you, in tax-free cash, in addition to whatever you may receive from your other insurance! Spend the money as you see fit—for hospital or doctors' bills, mortgage payments—or any necessary but costly extras not fully covered by usual hospital policies.

Everything costs more these days (need we tell you?) and hospital care is certainly no exception! While 7 out of 8 Americans have some hospital insurance, most have found it does not cover all the bills that pile up when sickness or accident strikes. That's why World Mutual developed low-cost Income Protection that helps you pay either hospital costs or anything else you need or want!

You get your $100.00 per week—TAX FREE—from your first day in the hospital, and as long as you are confined there, even for 100 weeks, if necessary.

For older folks — greater protection than you ever would have thought possible!

Right now, would advancing age prevent you from getting hospital insurance, or income protection with another company? Or if you could get a policy elsewhere, would you have to pay a big premium for it? Or perhaps you no longer have a regular income, and are living on Social Security. What would happen to you then if you had to suddenly go to a hospital?

Your "life saver" could be this wonderful World Mutual Income Protection Plan—because World Mutual welcomes folks of all ages into its Plan. You can even be OVER 100 and still be eligible!

Can you afford to miss this chance?

Now, at less than you may ever have thought would be possible, you can set up a "gold mine" of protection from desperate financial straits when the need arises. Thanks to this unique new Plan, you can have the solid, substantial protection you need—and not only save money, but assure yourself of other benefits, too, during all the years to come.

Our famous MONEY-BACK GUARANTEE.

We are so sure that we offer the best protection at the lowest cost, that we make our famous MONEY-BACK guarantee.

When you send for your policy, and it arrives in your hands, we want you to look it over as carefully and as often as you wish. See how thoroughly it protects you. See how exactly it meets the needs that you want covered. See how here, at last, is the policy that makes it possible for you to get the sickness and accident protection you need, in greater measures than ever before!

If you are not 100% satisfied that your policy is exactly what we have promised it to be, and exactly what YOU want it to be—send the policy back to us within 15 days and we will REFUND YOUR MONEY IN FULL, AT ONCE. But meanwhile you will be protected. And, if you decide to continue this wonderful protection, you may do so at the low rates shown below—a rate which will never be raised because you grow older!

World Mutual Plans are nationally known.

This money-saving World Mutual $100.00-A-Week Income Protection Plan truly offers outstanding value. Here's why: You can buy ordinary insurance from most companies at regular rates all year long. They are happy to issue one policy at a time. But World Mutual issues many new policies at one time during a limited enrollment period.

This "mass enrollment" method keeps our underwriting, processing and all other overhead expenses down to a bare minimum—and these savings are passed on to you!

Medical Costs Skyrocketing!

(Source: U.S. Dept. of Health, Education & Welfare)

Social Security Bulletin, July 1967

Govt. figures reveal your present health protection ...may no longer protect you against today's rising medical costs! Don't leave your loved ones defenseless! Act at once to add up to $10,000.00 to your health protection for only $1 for entire family.

THIS LIMITED ENROLLMENT OFFER ENDS SOON

Only $1 for first month for your entire family — unconditional money back guarantee.

To introduce you to this new Plan, we make you this unusual offer: Act during this enrollment period and get your first month's protection for your Entire Family for only one dollar!

Simply fill out your enrollment form here and mail it with just $1, before midnight of the date within the enrollment form. A full month's protection will go into effect on the same day we accept your enrollment form. Your policy will be sent to you right away BY MAIL.

When you get your policy, examine all its benefits and features. Have it checked, if you wish, by your lawyer, doctor, or other trusted adviser. If you are not 100% satisfied, return the policy within 15 days and your money will be refunded. If you decide to continue this worthwhile protection, you may do so at the low rates as follows for each member:

World Mutual Monthly Renewal Rates

Age at Enrollment	Monthly Premium
0-39	only $3.95
40-54	only $4.95
55-64	only $5.95
65-74	only $6.95
75 and over	only $9.25

NOTE: The regular Monthly Premium shown here (for your age at time of enrollment) is the same low premium you will continue to pay; it will not automatically increase as you pass from one age bracket to the next! Once you have enrolled in this World Mutual plan, your rate can never be changed because of how much or how often you collect from us—or because of advanced age—but only if there is a general rate adjustment, up or down, on all policies of this type in your entire state!

The reliable company behind your policy.

Your policy is guaranteed by the World Mutual Health and Accident Insurance Company of Pennsylvania. We have been helping families safeguard their security with sound insurance protection for more than 47 years. Our rating by Dunne's Insurance Reports, the world's largest policyholders' reporting service, is A+ (Excellent). This is the highest rating any insurance company can reach.

As for our financial position, Dunne's analysis shows that for each $100.00 of liabilities, World Mutual has assets of $134.54. This is higher than the 5-year average of the 15 largest insurance companies in the country, which have assets of $107.62 for each $100.00 of liabilities. In addition to this ample margin of financial safety, you can count on us to handle your claims fairly and promptly when you are hospitalized. World Mutual has paid claims in every state and in many foreign countries as well.

THESE 20 QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Tell you how World Mutual's $100.00-A-Week Income Protection Plan gives you the protection you need — at amazingly low cost!

1. How much will this policy pay me when I go to the hospital?
$100.00 per week.

2. When will my hospitalization benefits start?
The day you enter the hospital.

3. Will I be paid if I am in the hospital for less than a full week?
Yes. This new plan pays whether you are in the hospital for only a day, or a week, a month, or a year!

4. Does this policy have any "waiting periods" before I can use it?
No. It will go into force on the same day we accept your completed enrollment form and $1 premium for your entire family.

5. How long will I continue to receive hospitalization benefits.
For every day you are in the hospital to a maximum of 100 weeks, as a result of any one accident or illness.

6. Suppose I am paid benefits for any sickness or accident. What happens if I am again hospitalized for the same condition?
After you have resumed full normal activities for just 90 days, you are again eligible for benefits for a recurring condition, to a maximum of 100 weeks. And of course, any new condition would be covered immediately!

7. How may I use these benefit payments?
You may use them in any way you wish — for hospital and doctor bills, rent, food, household expenses, or anything else. This is entirely up to you!

8. Can I collect from World Mutual even if I carry other insurance?
Of course. This plan will pay you in addition to whatever you may receive from any other policies, including Medicare, for folks over 65.

9. Why do I need this World Mutual Plan in addition to my other hospital and health insurance?
While hospital costs have tripled in recent years, very few people have tripled their insurance. The chances are one in seven that you will require hospital care this year — and you will need money to take care of all your other expenses, as well as your hospital bills. Your World Mutual checks are rushed to you by air mail to use as you see fit!

10. May I apply if I am over 65?
Yes, you may. Folks any age are welcome to apply — there is no age limit!

11. Will my protection be cancelled because I have too many claims?
No. World Mutual guarantees never to cancel your protection because you have too many claims or because of advanced age. We also guarantee never to refuse to renew your policy unless the premium is not paid before the end of the grace period, or unless renewal is declined on all policies of this type in your entire state. (Of course, if deception is used in making application, the policy may be ineffective.)

12. Will benefits be reduced because of advanced age?
No. Regardless of how old you become or how many claims you have, your benefits remain the same.

13. Will my rates be raised as I grow older or if I have too many claims?
No matter how many claims you have, or regardless of how long you keep your policy, your rate will remain the same as it was for your age when you applied. World Mutual guarantees never to adjust this rate unless the rates are adjusted, up or down, on all policies of this type in your entire state!

14. What is not covered by this policy?
The only condition not covered are those caused by: mental or nervous disorders; pregnancy; childbirth or miscarriage; expenses resulting from any sickness or injury you had before the policy Effective Date (during the first 2 years only); act of war; or where care is in a Government hospital. Everything else is covered!

15. What are the requirements to enroll in this World Mutual Plan?
You must not have been refused any health, hospital or life insurance; and, to qualify during this enrollment period, you must apply before midnight of the date in the coupon.

16. Why is this offer good for a limited time only?
Because by enrolling a large number of people at the same time, underwriting, processing and policy issuance costs can be kept at a minimum—and we can pass these savings on to you.

17. Besides the savings, are there other advantages to joining World Mutual during this enrollment period?
Yes. A very important one is that you do not need to complete a regular application — just the brief enrollment form in the lower left hand corner of this page. Also, during this enrollment period there are no other requirements for eligibility — and no "waivers" or restrictive endorsements can be put on your policy!

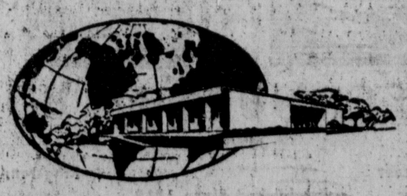

18. Can other members of my family take advantage of this special offer?
Yes, as long as they can meet the few requirements listed under Question 15.

19. How does the money-back guarantee work?
Examine your policy carefully in the privacy of your own home. If for any reason you are not completely satisfied, return it within 15 days and we will promptly refund your money. Meanwhile you will be fully protected while making your decision!

20. How do I join?
Fill out your brief enrollment form (be sure to sign your name) and mail it, with just $1 for the first month's protection for entire family. Mail to: World Mutual, 11401 Roosevelt Blvd., Philadelphia, Pa. 19154.

Act now — "later" may be too late!

TIME IS PRECIOUS! Act quickly. (No salesman will call.) The sooner you mail your enrollment form, the sooner your protection begins. So get it into the mail today—because once you suffer an accident or sickness, it's TOO LATE to buy protection at any cost.

USO Helps Servicemen Both Here and Abroad

By SHANE CROSBY

Ask any serviceman or woman about the USO and they will tell you of its need and worth. For many of the Armed Forces, the USO clubs are the only friendly spots they can visit off their military station. From dances in New York City to coffee shops in Vietnam, the USO (United Services Organization) serves the Armed Forces that serve the nation.

In recent appeal for funds from Community Chest drives throughout the country, USO president General Emmett O'Donnell, (U.S.A.-Ret.) said "We ask your support in the name of more than 3,500,000 men and women now bearing the arms of our beloved country."

He added that the USO maintains 121 operations in 35 states, and 54 in 18 foreign countries, that are dependent upon the citizens of the United States to "keep the doors open and keep the curtain going up on USO shows all over the world."

Drive Ends the 19th

A member of the Ulster County Community Chest, the USO is added in its efforts to bring comfort to the Nation's servicemen and women through the contributions of the public to the chest campaigns. The Ulster County drive for $345,000 is scheduled to end Oct. 19.

For 27 years, the general said, the USO has been the conduit through which the American people have given practical expression of their continued concern for the welfare and morale of their sons and daughters and loved ones in uniform. For 27 years the USO has relied upon the support and understanding ffor campaigns as the principal source of funds with which to carry out the mission for the Armed Forces personnel stationed throughout the world.

Last year, it was noted in a USO report, members of the Armed Forces made some 19,307,000 visits to the 121 stateside operations of USO and 54 overseas stations. About 6,277,435 attended 4,409 USO live entertainment shows provided by 120 professional, college and celebrity units, making appearances in 36 countries where the United States has its Armed Forces deployed.

113,000 Volunteers

More than 113,000 civilian volunteers augmented the work of a small professional staff to keep the coffee hot, dispensing old-fashioned hometown American hospitality in the name of American contributors.

In Vietnam, the USO has or is now planning a total of 17 operations that range from a coffee shop at Cam Ran Bay to areas that house giant USO Shows with such well-known stars as Bob Hope and Martha Raye.

Actors and singers offer their services free to the USO and many return to combat areas year after year to perform before the servicemen and women.

In the past year the USO has doubled the number of its shows being sent to Vietnam and Thailand. The USO has opened a new USO Pacific Hospital Circuit to entertain and comfort the sick and wounded from Vietnam convalescing in military hospitals in Japan, Guam, Hawaii and the Philippines.

While serving the needs of the military in Southeast Asia, the president noted, the USO has not neglected its operations in other areas of the world, he said. Wherever they are, the USO is there, he said, "bringing continuous and live entertainment overseas so they are not forgotten."

FOR THEM—Servicemen in combat in Vietnam have the assurance that USO operations are available to them nearby. The USO, a member of the Ulster County Community Chest, operates from some 17 locations in the country. The USO has provided for servicemen and women for the past 27 years "to let those in uniform know that the folks back home have not forgotten them, no matter where they go in our behalf." Kingston Consolidated Schools To Observe School Lunch Week

By JEAN F. DOLAN

Today marks the start of the National School Lunch Week and in Kingston Schools Consolidated are joining with schools across the state and country in the observance.

In proclaiming the week in New York State, Commissioner James E. Allen noted, "The observance should have particular significance for New Yorkers since more than 1.4 million well balanced, nutritious school lunches are served daily in 4,420 state public and private schools."

Locally a unique school lunch program goes on throughout the school year with approximately 4,000 noon time meals served Kingston District children each day. The nutritional meals are prepared in the central kitchen at the J. Watson Bailey school and transported to the cafeterias in the district by specially equipped trucks.

The central kitchen is one of the factors which makes the local lunch program a smooth running operation. John Johnson, director, also credited the high caliber of personnel with the success of the mass feeding service.

Big Business

School lunch programs are really big business across the nation representing more than 3 billion lunches served annually. According to the U.S. Department of Agriculture, school lunch programs are the nation's largest consumers of so-called "surplus foods." Foods already purchased by the federal government under price support programs find their way into the diets of children rather than into wardhouses and costly storage.

Theme for this year's recognition of the role of the program is School Lunch Aids Good Health, placing emphasis on how school lunch programs keep the nation strong and healthy.

Commissioner Allen stressed that the program means more than a healthful filling meal: "As part of the overall school program, school lunch offers the opportunity to teach good nutrition and to develop proper eating habits which can have a life-long influence on the health and general well being of individuals."

In this connection a nutrition breakfast is being served Wednesday morning to stress the importance of a good start to the day. Guest speakers will include Dr. Jerimiah Sachs and school personnel connected with the lunch program and health services. The breakfast will be attended by students studying the importance of good nutrition.

Maximum Participation

In discussing the overall school lunch program for Kingston School, Johnson said that meal planning is done not only with an eye to nutrition but a consideration of what is pleasing to youthful palates. This in turn assures maximum participation on the part of pupils.

Lunches are planned and prepared in accordance rigid standards prescribed by the New York State Education Department and the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

"It is obvious," Commissioner Allen concluded in his proclaimation, "that school lunch is big business and a very essential part of the overall school program."

Texas Race

Wallace Making It Close

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—Supporters of George Wallace, possibly one million strong, are making a close three-man race of what otherwise might be a runaway for Richard M. Nixon in Texas.

A recent statewide poll gave Wallace 25 per cent of the Texas vote. Retiring Democratic Gov. John B. Connally estimates Wallace's current strength at about 30 per cent. There are four million registered voters and about three million are expected to vote.

In a two-man race, Nixon would be a heavy favorite to beat Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey in Texas by about 55-45.

But because of Wallace's surprising strength, neither the Humphrey nor Nixon camp expects to get a clear majority.

Any of the three conceivably could win the state's 25 electoral votes, but top Democrats concede Nixon is a slight favorite at the moment.

Wallace is strong in many normally Democratic areas. Particularly among farmers and union members. But "protest votes" that would go to Nixon if Wallace were not in the race.

Nixon strategists in Texas are mapping a careful campaign to take votes away from Wallace and give them to Nixon.

John Hurd of Laredo, Nixon's state campaign chairman, said a polling organization has been commissioned to "find out who the Wallace supporters are, whom they supported in the past, and what we can do to get them."

He indicated Republicans will try to convince these people that voting for Wallace is futile.

"About 30 per cent of the Wallace people are hard core," Hurd said. "The other 70 per cent range from weak leaners to heavy leaners. These are the people who will respond to what I call the 'don't waste your vote' approach."

Connally said he expects Nixon to get most of the Wallace defections, but thinks a big Democratic turnout could still give Humphrey the state with perhaps 40 per cent of the vote.

Wallace's Texas organization is run largely by members of the John Birch Society.

The state chairman of Wallace's American Party, Bard A. Logan of San Antonio, is a member of the society and said about 15 of the other 30 executive committee members also are Birchers.

Republicans in Texas are united and well-financed. GOP Sen. John Tower is a key Nixon supporter.

Arrest Youths In Highland Burglary Try

Accused of an attempted burglary at the Pasttime Luncheonette on Route 9W at Highland at 8:45 a.m. Sunday, two youths were arrested by State Police. They were booked as Justin Ronald Gould, 16, of Lakeview Terrace, New Salem and David M. Lieser, 19, of Lake Minnewaska.

Troopers arraigned the youths before Lloyd Town Justice Linn Baker. Both requested a preliminary examination and the case was adjourned until Tuesday, Oct. 15. In lieu of $1,000 bail the youths were committed to the county jail.

The arrests were make by BCI Investigator Roger Gardner and Trooper D. E. Sanford. The youths were specifically charged with attempted burglary in the third degree.

Man's Death Ruled Suicide

Ulster County Coroner William S. Keyser has issued a finding of suicide in the death of Douglas Tweedy, 27, of West Hurley, who was found in his carbon monoxide gas filled vehicle off Route 28A on Saturday morning.

Coroner Keyser, who investigated with BCI Investigators Joseph Ventriglia and W. E. Wiedemann of the Kingston sub-station, said death was due to asphyxia resulting from carbon monoxide gas poisoning.

Authorities said a piece of garden hose was attached to the exhaust pipe and extended inside the car. A towel was stuffed in the rear window opening. Contents of a note reportedly found in the vehicle were not disclosed.

Keyser said William Sutter discovered Tweedy in the car and summoned authorities. It was reported that Tweedy apparently had been despondent.

Accuse U. S.

TABEN, South Yemen (UPI)—The president of South Yemen Sunday charged the United States with supporting what he called Saudi Arabia's "aggressive designs" against his nations. President Qahtan As-Shaabi also condemned "American aggression" in Vietnam.

Town Police Chief Warns Of Dangers

Chief Charles P. Riley, Sr., of the Town of Saugerties Police Force, advises that he has been receiving complaints of motorists failing to stop for school buses while they are receiving and discharging children.

Chief Riley advises, that in addition to it being a violation of the motor vehicles traffic laws, there is a tremendous possibility of causing injury to one or more children who may be crossing in front of the stopped bus.

Chief Riley also wishes to advise summer residents who are in the process of closing their camps and cottages that they guns, ammunition, liquors and small, easily removable articles of value.

Incidents of breakins have been on the increase and removal of the items will cut down temptation and loss. All residents are asked to be on the look out for any unknown motor vehicles or individuals seen in the vicinity of a summer home. If suspicions are aroused try to get the license number and notify the local authorities.

Woodstock News

Woodstock-W. Hurley Chest Fund Reaches 42 Per Cent

The Woodstock-W. Hurley Community Chest Drive is at 42 per cent as it enters the final two weeks, reports Paul DeLisio, general chairman.

More than 100 persons are now moving the chest barometers repidly toward the $10,000 goal, he said.

Richard Mellert and Gene Meyer, business fund drive chairman, reports that response from the business segment of the community has been excellent, although only half complete.

Maria Hutchinson reports that even though the residential drive was delayed by a week due to the school budget issue, solicitors are working hard now and returns are encouraging.

Mrs. Rita Dalgreen, W. Hurley coordinator reports that her captains have all their teams reporting. Captains are: Mrs. Deanie Keith, Mrs. David Fox., Mrs. Linda Gray, Mrs. Kay Spangenberger, Mrs. William Steuding, Mrs. Lee Weinberg, Mrs. Ester Schroeder and Michael Stupack.

Mrs. Dorothy Williams, Woodstock, coordinator with her captains, Mrs. Florence Smith, Mrs. Terry Donaghy, Mrs. Jane Allen, Mrs. Mildred Williams, Mrs. Doris DeWitt, Mrs. LaVerne Hucker and Mrs. Alice Bailey will complete their work by Oct. 19.

Anyone not being solicited may send their contributions to Mrs. Hutchinson, Maverick Road, Woodstock or leave it at the National Bank of Ulster and Orange counties.

School Board Bulletin Next

The publishing of a monthly bulletin and the establishment of citizens' budget and advisory committees were discussed at a recent workshop of the Onteora Board of Education.

The monthly bulletin entitled: "Direct Line" will be mailed to the home's of district residents and other interested citizens. The board discussed at great length, the problems of communication the schools' story through various media. It was generally agreed that the use of a bulletin, establishment of advisory citizens committees and development of a speaker's bureau were a needed addition to present methods which utilize daily and weekly newspapers, radio and P-TA bulletins.

It is anticipated that the first "Direct Line" bulletin will be published in early November.

John Meyer First Place in Chess Tourney

Tony Criscimagna Jr., director of the summer-long tournament of the King's Knight Chess Club of Woodstock-Kingston, has reported the final standings for Section A (rated by the U. S. Chess Federation) and Section B (unrated).

John Meyer, of Woodstock, took first place with a score of five and one-half out of six. His only draw was with his brother Eugene, who came in second with a score of five. Anthony Criscimagna Jr. of Bearsville and Dorothy Teasley of Poughkeepsie tied for third place with identical scores of three and one-half; a two-game play-off is scheduled.

Robert Wilder of Poughkeepsie took first place in Section B, also with five and one-half out of a possible six. Richard Eng of Kingston placed second, with a score of five. Michael Fischer of Kingston and William Wetterer of Woodstock tied for third, with scores of four, but Fischer broke the tie in a two-game play-off, winning both games.

The winners will receive trophies.

Historical Group Names Trustees

At the annual meeting of the Historical Society of Woodstock held recently the following trustees were elected to serve for three year terms: Mrs. Dorothy Haeussler, Mrs. Robert Rifenberg and Harry Siemsen. In addition, Siemsen was elected first vice-president and Mrs. Clyde DeGraff third vice-president.

The president of the society, Edgar C. Leaycraft, gave a report of activities for the year and led a discussion of possible plans for the next year and the future development of the museum.

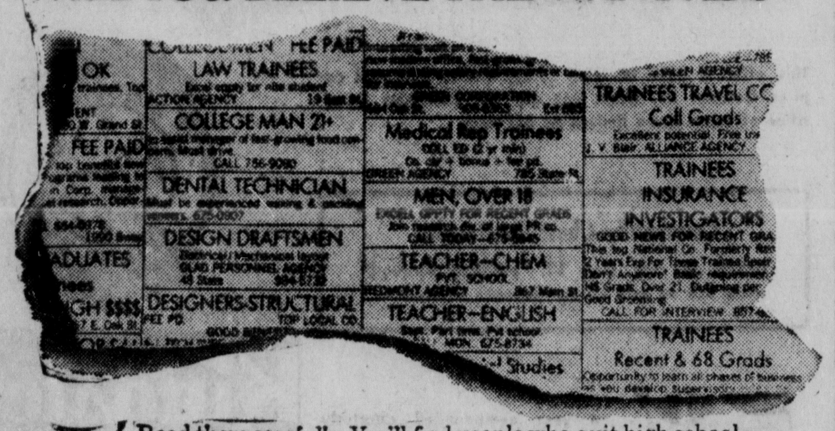

Leaycraft showed slides he had taken in the Wellfleet museum, showing how they set up their exhibits. He also had pictures of two models made for the Provincetown museum by Courtney Allen, one of the original wharf theatre there and the other of a typical glass factory of about 1800, which could be used as a basis for a similar model for the Woodstock museum.

Considerable interest was expressed in having feild trips to various points of historic interest in Woodstock. Such plans will be made by the trustees for the near future.

REALTORS INSTALL—The Ulster County Board of Realtors held its 47th installation dinner Thursday night at the Gov. Clinton Hotel with Rodney Hommel (L) named as president. Guests included Edward Grimpel (L), president of the State Association of Real Estate Board, and Robert Henckel, regional vice president of the Lower Hudson Valley Region of the state association. Also shown is John Sanglyn, a member of the local board of directors. (Freeman photo by Powell.)

Viet GIs Curious, Respect Foe

IN THE DMZ, Vietnam (AP) — The rain-soaked American infantrymen pushed through the southern part of the demilitarized zone with one thought in mind—kill as many Charlies as possible.

But as they moved through a large bunker complex where the enemy recently made his home, many GIs expressed curiosity and respect for the foe.

The area had been heavily bombed and shelled. Some bunkers had been caved in by explosions. Others were burned black by napalm. It was clear the enemy troops who were here had lived through hell before pulling back, perhaps to set up an ambush over the next ridge.

There was open sympathy in the voice of a few GIs as they discussed the life and fate of their enemy. The Americans saw a partial mirror image of their own life. The North Vietnamese here had been riflemen like themselves, the man at the bottom of the heap whose nose is alternately rubbed in the mud and choked with dust, but always pointed toward the next battle.

"You know, I'll bet old Charlie and us would have a lot to talk about if the shootin' would just stop," one bearded corporal said. A few diaries taken from enemy bodies have voiced similar sentiments.

The big Z, GI slang for the Demilitarized zone, is a place that can make strong men stronger and break the weak. It is consistently the most dangerous place in Vietnam, and also as unpleasant a place as troops on both sides are likely to find.

In hot weather, water is short and the sun merciless. When the rains come, they are not the sudden cloudbursts common in the south but often last for days and leave infantrymen soaked, mud-caked and shivering until the clouds break again.

This knowledge of shared misery has caused more than one Marine and Army rifleman to speculate on the enemy.

The Marines, who have for years borne the brunt of the DMZ fighting, refer to the North Vietnamese as Mr. Charles to differentiate from the homegrown Viet Cong guerrillas, or Charlie. Both expressions are derived from radio code for the enemy, Victor Charlie—V.C.

Kenyan First Gold Medalist in 10,000 Meters

Matson and Whitney (US) Smash Olympic Records

THE FIRST MEDALIST — Australian long distance runner Ron Clarke (C) is running strong with only a few laps to go in Sunday's 10,000 meter run (Top) but is completely out of the picture as Nafta Temu (R) blasts ahead to win the Gold Medal as Mamo Wa Wolde of Ethiopia (L) wins second place. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

By JOE SARGIS
UPI Sports Writer

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—Neftali Temu, a 23-year-old endurance runner from Kenya who runs most of the time at high altitude, became the 1968 Olympic Games' first gold medal winner Sunday when he won the 10,000 meter run in 29 minutes, 27.4 seconds to lead an All-African sweep.

There were many record performances on this first day of the XIX Olympiad—in the 100-meter dash by Charlie Greene of Seattle, Wash., and Hermes Ramirez of Mexico, in the 400-meter hurdles by Ron Whitney of Boulder, Colo., in the shot put by Randy Matson of Pampa, Tex., and in weightlifting by Imre Foldi of Hungary.

But Temu provided the dramatic highlight of the day when he nearly let Mamo Wolde of Ethiopia steal the 10,000 meters, but came back with a brilliant sprint in the final 200 meters to win the gold medal going away.

Wolde, one of Ethiopia's fine stable of distance racers, was second in 29:27.53 with Tunisia's Mahomod Gammoudi, a silver medalist at Tokyo four years ago, third in 29:34.2. Americans Tracy Smith of Arcadia, Calif., and Tom Laris of Walnut Creek, Calif., never figured in the race and finished far up the track along with Australian world record holder Ron Clarke.

Otherwise, U.S. athletes advanced in track and field, basketball and even rowing.

Ties Record Twice

Greene, the former Nebraska star, twice tied the existing world record of 10 seconds flat in the 100 meter dash; Matson, the Pampa Strongboy, set a Games record by leading shot put qualifiers with an almost nonchalant heave of 67-10 1-4, and Whitney bettered the listed world record by taking a heat of the 400-meter hurdles in 49 seconds flat, thus setting an Olympic mark.

The United States got an unexpected boost in two of seven rowing events as Yank oarsmen led the way into the coxless pairs and double sculls semifinals, and the American basketball team kept its perfect Olympic record intact by sweeping over Spain, 81-46.

However, there were a few U.S. disappointments as only Tommy Farrell of New York qualified for the 800-meter run semifinals, Jim Hines of Oakland, Calif., and Mel Pender of Atlanta, Ga., finished second in their second round 100 meter heats and the best Geoff Vanderstock of Los Angeles could do in the 400-meter hurdles trials was a second place 50.7, well off his world record of 48.8 set only a month ago in the U.S. trials.

World-Ranked 11th

Temu, ranked 11th in the world this year behind Clarke, is no stranger to high altitude, so Mexico City's 7,350-foot elevation hardly made a difference to him. However, despite the fine performance, his time was far off the Olympic record of 28:24.4 turned in by America's Billy Mills in winning the event at Tokyo four years ago and Clarke's world mark of 27:39.4. Mills failed to make the Yank team this year.

Clarke, the Aussie star who holds just about every world mark from two miles up, stayed with the leaders in the 10,000 until there were only two laps to go. He fell steadily behind as Temu and Wolde made it a two-man race to the wire.

Wolde was the first to go into his sprint and it appeared to have caught Temu by surprise, but the native of Nairobi quickly adjusted, went into a spring of his own and finally took the lead with about 200 meters to go.

It was one of two opening-day finals but on Monday there will be five of them in track and field with the 100-meters dash and shot put two of them. Sunday's other finals was in bantam weightlifting.

Wins Both Heats

Greene turned in his 10-flat performances while winning both of his 100 heats. Hines won his first heat but finished second in 10.1 behind Lennox Miller, an old rival from Jamaica who attends the University of Southern California, in the second.

Pender was second in both of his heats, losing out to Montes Casanova of Cuba in the first and Hermes Ramirez, also of Cuba, in the second. Ramirez had to do a 10 flat, which put him in a group of eight who now share that world mark, to beat the little Army captain who is scheduled for assignment to Vietnam in December.

Greene, Hines and Ronnie Ray Smith, who is an alternate on the Yank relay teams for these Games, share a pending world mark of 9.9.

Matson, who holds the world record at 71-5 1-2 in the shot, made his Olympic record throw on the very first time he got into the ring. His throw beat the old mark of 66-8 1-2 set by Dallas Long in the 1964 Olympics. George Woods of Sikestown, Mo., was third with a throw of 64-11 1-4 and Dave Maggard of Los Altos, Calif., was seventh at 63-2 1-4. Thus, all three Yanks advanced to Monday's final.

Whitney's 49 flat in the 400 hurdles wiped out the existing world mark of 49.1 set by Rex Cawley at Los Angeles in 1964 but was considerably off Vanderstock's pending world record.

Boyd Gittins of Bellevue, Wash., was America's third entry in the 400 hurdles but was scratched because of a pulled leg muscle.

Wade Bell of Ogden, Utah, the chief hope in the 800 run, finished a well-beaten fifth in his heat and Ron Kutchinski of Grand Rapids, Mich., was third in his heat with respective times of 1:51.5 and 1:47.6. But Farrell kept it from being a shutout for the Yanks by finishing second in his heat in 1:46.1. Farrell ran well throughout and even had time to look back five times to be sure he wasn't going to be surprised.

Rowing proved a bonanza for the U. S.

Double Sculls Win

The double sculls team of John Nunn of Cincinnati and Bill Maher of Detroit easily won an opening-round heat in 6:56.96 and immediately became the boat to beat in the semifinals on Monday. The other Yank victory was tied in by Lawrence Hough and Anthony Johnson of the Potomac Boat Club of Arlington, Va., a sparkling 7:19.92 in the coxless pairs.

Yank boats also advanced in the coxed fours, coxless fours and coxed pairs.

There were only two events scheduled in women's track and field and one was not held because of a small field. That was in the javelin, where all 16 entrants advanced automatically to the final Monday.

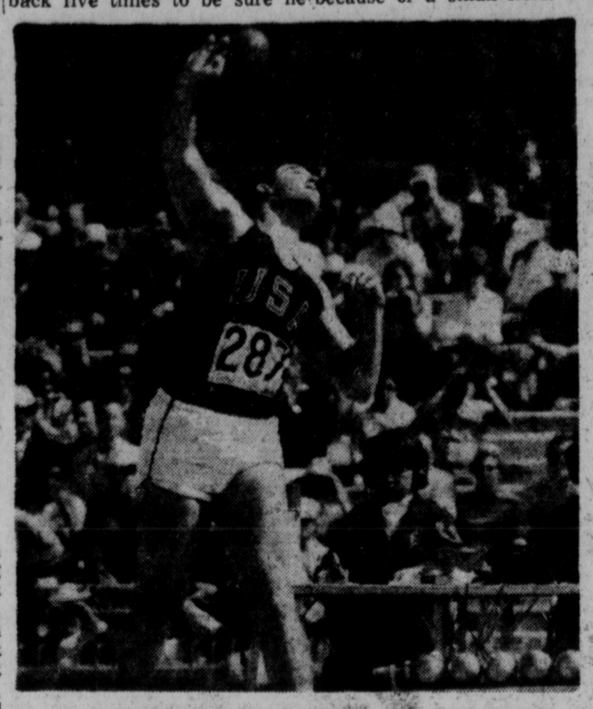

Seventh-Place Finish

In the long jump, Willye White of Chicago finished seventh with a leap of 21-3-4 but qualified for the final, also on Monday's schedule.

U. S. riders amassed 3,030 points in the opening event of the modern pentathlon competition and were not too far behind Sweden and Russia, who shared the lead with four events to go, each with 3,135 points.

In women's volleyball, Japan's defending Olympic champions scored an easy 3-0 victory over the U. S.

Hardly an Olympics goes by without a protest and the 1968 Games had one right at the start as India, which had lost only one previous field hockey game in Olympic competition, bowed to New Zealand, 2-1. The Indians lodged two protests against the officiating in the match, and lost both.

RECORD HEAVE — Randy Matson of the USA turns loose to heave the shot 67 feet 10¼ inches to set a world shotput record in the Olympic qualifying heat Sunday in Mexico City. Matson's throw easily beat the former Olympic mark of 66 ft. 8½" set by Dallas Long, also of the USA in the 1964 Olympic games in Tokyo.

Ohio State Defense Sends Purdue Dream Up in Smoke

By GEORGE BUCKLEY
UPI Sports Writer

Purdue's dream season went up in smoke Saturday as Ohio State dramatically turned off the Boilermaker offense — holding Leroy Keyes to just 19 yards—in a stunning 13-0 upset.

That's the greatest defensive effort I have ever, ever seen," said a very proud Woody Hayes coach of the Buckeyes. His pride was completely justified, as Ohio State held No. 1 Purdue scoreless allowing the Boilermakers only 186 yards. The Purdue went into the game averaging 41.3 points and 437 yards per game.

Purdue which had firm hopes of taking the National Championship, the Big Ten title and a trip to the Rose Bowl, will now more than likely find themselves without any of the three come December.

Keyes who along with O. J. Simpson, is the leading contender for the Heisman Trophy, had a dismal day against the Buckeye defense, picking up only 19 yards on seven carries and catching four passes for another 44 yards.

Purdue coach Jack Mollenkofp summed it up pretty well. "I did not expect the Ohio State defense to play as well as it did. We though we could do a lot of things, but they would not let us."

In other games of national importance, USC defeated Stanford 27-24, Penn State tripped UCLA 21-6, Kansas topped Nebraska 23-13, Notre Dame bested Northwestern 27-7, Florida whipped Tulane 24-3, Houston was upset by Oklahoma State 21-17 and Army edged California 10-7.

Defensive back Ted Provost provided Ohio State's first touchdown in the third quarter with a 35 yard runback of an intercepted pass. The Buckeyes' other TD came when quarterback Bill Long ran for 14 yards after middle guard Jim Stillwagon had intercepted a Mike Phipps pass.

Second ranked USC remained undefeated as O. J. Simpson continued to be unstoppable, scoring three touchdowns and picking up 220 yards on 47 carries. Trojan kicker Ron Ayala provided the winning margin with a 34 yard field goal. The loss was Stanford's first of the season.

A 76 yard pass from quarterback Chuck Burkhart to fullback Tom Cherry, broke open a close 7-6 game for third rated Penn State as the Nittany Lions chalked up their fourth straight win. Charlie Pittman put the game out of reach in the fourth quarter with a 28 yard touchdown run. The defeat was UCLA's second in a row.

Quarterback Bobby Douglass' two fourth period touchdowns gave fourth ranked Kansas its win over sixth rated Nebraska in a Big Eight battle. Kansas is now unbeaten in four contests while Nebraska has a 3-1 record.

Terry Hanratty passed for one touchdown and ran for another in fifth ranked Notre Dame's win over Northwestern. Halfback Bob Gladieux accounted for the remaining Irish scores with runs of seven and two yards.

Ninth ranked Florida erupted for three touchdowns in the final period after being held to one field goal in the first three quarters by winless Tulane. It was the Gators fourth straight win.

Halfback Wayne Hallmark blasted over from two yards out with 58 seconds remaining for his second touchdown of the night as Oklahoma State surprised 10th ranked Houston. Hallmark, only 5-foot-8, had scored Oklahoma State's first touchdown on a three-yard run and later caught a two-point conversion pass that tied the score at 14-14.

In an intersectional battle, Army quarterback Steve Lindell threw a 62-yard touchdown pass to end Gary Steele with 2:48 remaining as the Cadets upset 14th ranked California. It was the Golden Bears' first loss of the season.

It wasn't a big game but it was certainly a high score when North Park College walloped North Central College 104-32.

"The score could have been close to 200 points if I'd let my kids go," commented North College coach Norm Rathje. "Our kids were really up for this one."

Hawks Defeat Rangers

CHICAGO (UPI) — Bobby Hull, lured out of a 78-hour "retirement" only 45 minutes before the game, scored one goal and Stan Mikita had a hand in three others Sunday night to lead the Chicago Black Hawks to a 5-2 National Hockey League victory over New York.

Mikita, NHL scoring champion last year who signed his new contract only 47 minutes before Chicago's opener Friday night, assisted on two goals and scored another while Jim Pappin added a goal and an assist.

The game was the NHL opener for the Rangers.

Hull, who had announced his retirement Thursday because of a salary dispute with the Black Hawk management, got his goal on a power play midway in the third period to wind up the scoring.

Mikita set up one goal for Ken Wharram and another for Pappin. Bill Orban scored the other Chicago goal while Bob Nevin got both New York tallies, one on a second period power play.

Chicago scored twice within 30 seconds early in the second period to take a 2-0 lead on goals by Aharram and Orban and Pappin made it 3-1 late in the period just 13 seconds after the Black Hawks had taken a two man advantage.

Nevin's goal, after only 19 seconds of the third period, closed the gap to 3-2, but four minutes later Mikita scored and Hull countered with his power play goal at 8:13.

Deleware Nips Ellies 19-14

CALLICOON — Jerry Werlau scored all three touchdowns for Delaware Valley High School here Saturday as the Eagles nipped Ellenville 19-14 in a non-league football contest.

Early in the opening period, Werlau took a 60 yard scoring bamb from quarterback Scott Makela, and in the second period he was on the end of a 30 yard touchdown pass from Bob Flynn.

Ellenville also scored in the second quarter, when Gary Bagleibter hit Bruce Hornbeck with a 21 yard pass.

In the third quarter Werlau capped a 50 yard Eagle drive by catching his third touchdown pass, a two yarder from Mike Canzonon.

Bagleibter and Hornbeck teamed up for another touchdown late in the fourth quarteh, this time for 50 yards until the clock ran out.

Kingston Kickers Down Spring Valley

The Kingston Sports Club soccer squad kept its undefeated record intact in the Premier Division of the German-American Soccer League with a 3-1 victory over visiting Spring Valley Sunday.

Last summer, the Kickers were forced into overtime by the strong Spring Valley squad, but Sunday they were off and running.

Eugene Ventriglia took a perfect crossing pass from Reiner Schwebel with seven minutes gone in the game and slammed it past the surprised Spring Valley goalie with a diving head shot for the only score in the first half.

In the second half Kingston continued to put the pressure on a now tiring Spring Valley team, and with 52 minutes gone Klaus Weber took a nice low centering pass from Jim Reinhardt for goal number two.

A strong Spring Valley drive ended with a long, high line drive over Bill Newmerzsycky's head, before Weber put the game out of reach with his second goal of the afternoon, this one unassisted.

The Kickers win gave them a total of seven points in league scoring, with a 3-0-1 record, one point behind Newark, which has won four and lost one.

The Kingston - Hungarian game, however, which was called with the Kickers ahead 1-0 in the first half, has not yet been awarded to either club.

Weber's two goals gave him team leader. But the former only two behind Ventriglia, the New Paltz College All-American has a total of four on the season, can has five assists to only one for Weber for a firm grasp on the team scoring lead.

Kingston outshot Spring Valley 27-21, but Newmerzhysky made 16 saves to only 10 for Spring Valley. Both clubs had 18 free kicks, and Kingston was awarded three corner kicks to Spring Valley's one.

In other premier Division action, Hungaria downed Shamrock 4-2, German-American edged Newark 2-1, Hoboken took Austria 3-2, Haledon won over Bridgeport 2-1, and Passaic and Brooklyn played to a scoreless tie.

US Cagers Rout Spain

By MIKE RABUN

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—The United States basketball team an underdog for the first time in history, opened the defense of its Olympic championship Sunday with an 81-46 rout of Spain that "satisfied" its coach despite some sloppy play.

The Yanks jumped into the lead quickly as Spain went scoreless for 4 1-2 minutes, rolled to a 39-16 halftime, and romped home as coach Hank Iba substituted freely.

Spencer Haywood, 6-foot-8 center from the University of Detroit, led the U. S. scoring with 12 points and also dominated rebound and defensive play.

The United States has won the basketball gold medal ever since the sport was added to the Olympics. In fact, the Yanks never have lost even a single Olympic game. But this year, with most of last year's college stars already turned pro or electing to pass up the Olympics, the U. S. team is rated no better than a second or third choice behind Russia and perhaps Yugoslavia.

The Americans may have trouble later, but they had none against Spain.

KHS Edges PJ 26-25

By DENNIS R. CARO
(Freeman Sports Staff)

"You just wait 'til next week if you blow this one," assistant coach George Neher screamed at the Kingston High School football team.

Port Jervis was on the Maroon 43 yard line in the closing minutes of the fourth quarter, and they trailed 26-25. And they had just picked up their second consecutive first down — on the ground.

The Kingston defensive wall dug in, but Port halfback Jim Van Sickle ripped off four yards right through the middle anyway.

The numbers on the clock were getting smaller, but not fast enough, not nearly fast enough for the frenzied home fans.

A Kingston offside made it second and one, and quarterback Earl Sheard swept his end for the necessary yardage.

On the next play, Sheard again went with the sweep, but this time he fumbled. Fred Kachura recovered, and Kingston ran out the clock.

The fans went wild.

The game had started on a very bleak note for the rebounding Maroons, who last week had been soundly trouced, 40-6 up at Johnstown.

The third time Kingston got the ball, quarterback Mike Hoffman fumbled on his own nine yard line, and burly tackle Bruce Grathwohl picked up the loose pigskin and ran it in for the first score of the game.

Kingston moved to the Port ten yard line before fumbling the ball away for the second time, and again Port converted, this time on a 69 yard breakaway run by flankerback Bill Lain.

Trailing 13-0, the Maroon express finally began to pick up speed. Marshall Byrd broke away on a 39 yard touchdown romp around left end, and after Port punted to open the second quarter Hoffman found Joe Holland on the end of a 66 yard bomb. That tied the score.

But Port was not through yet. After three first downs had taken them from their own 20 to the Kingston 41, Lain shook off a tackle and romped the rest of the way to paydirt.

With the clock running out Hoffman began looking for deeper receivers.

He picked Dale Whitman out of a trio of Port defenders on the Red and White 32, and on the next play found Holland for the tying points just as the halftime gun sounded.

Dwight Byrd again converted and the Maroon took a 20-19 lead into the locker room.

Kingston struck for the fourth time after a Port drive had stalled in the opening minutes of the third quarter.

Taking the ball on their own 26 yard line, Pete Helmich and Marshall Byrd ground out two first downs on the way to the Port 44. Then Byrd found a hole up the middle, shook off three tacklers and outran all the rest.

And with a seven point lead the Maroon settled down to a conservative quarter, trusting Dale Whitman's punts to keep Port out of position.

It didn't work out that way. A key interception by Marshall Byrd had stopped Port inside the Kingston 20 for the second time that afternoon, but Whitman's punt was blocked and Port started again from the Kingston 41.

Port fumbled three times on the way to its fourth touchdown, a drive aided by two Kingston offsides. But the Red and White got there just the same. But Lain was stopped trying to run for the point after, and with the clock running out Port had to get the ball back.

After three plays, they did, Whitman punting to the Port 32. Port began to move and Neher began to scream.

Rondout Upsets Liberty, 12-7

By GEORGE TOMSON
(Freeman Sports Staff)

STONE RIDGE: There were those who wondered if Rondout Valley, with the loss of their star Gordy Taylor through graduation, really had the potential to contend for the UCAL crown again this year. Well, Saturday all doubt was dispelled as the Ganders showed championship form in stopping a Liberty drive at Rondout's seven yard line to give them a 12-7 victory over the Indians.

Len Baney, John Hall and Keith Gorham gave great defensive efforts to hold off two late Liberty drives in the final quarter of play.

On the second play of the game John Meehan started things for the Ganders intercepting a pass thrown by Liberty quarterback Ken Wohltjen and went for 10 yards to the Liberty 22 yard line. Two plays later Meehan passed to George Wallach at the one. Tommy Frazier then made it 6-0 Rondout with an end run.

Liberty's Tom Mack, who singlehandedly in the second half, went for a 10 yard gain up the middle but the Indians could not put together a drive in the second quarter.

Rondout soon got control of the ball and another Meehan pass, this one to Jim Rowe for 27 yards put the Ganders on the Liberty 39. Rowe then went around end for 25 yards only to have it nullified by illegal procedure. Meehan came right back with a 45 yard touchdown pass to Wallach, making it 12-0 Rondout.

The second half was an entirely different story however, as the Indians of Liberty dominated most of the play, in a desperate attempt to get back in the game.

Midway through the third period Mack, the speedy halfback began to find some running room. With Liberty taking over on the 50 yard line, Mack smashed up the middle, breaking tackles, for an 18 yard gain. Steve Finklestein followed with a seven yarder. Mack carried two more times putting the ball on the Rondout three. Baney then threw Mack for a seven yard loss but the workhorse Mack, who carried 25 times for 94 yards, countered with an end run blasting his way for 10 yards and a touchdown. Bob Cragley's PAT made the score 12-7 Rondout.

In the fourth period Rick Richards of the Indians intercepted a Meehan pass and went to the Rondout 15 only to have a clipping penalty bring the ball back to the 30. Finklestein went for seven up the middle and Mack again found an opening and ran the ball to the 16 yard line. A pass from Wohltjen to Art Collins put the ball on the Rondout three, and it looked as though the Ganders were cooked, especially when Mack went over for an apparent touchdown.

But no, a holding penalty saved the day for Rondout, not to mention what happened next. Liberty went to the air and John Meehan intercetped a screen pass and raced 90 yards for another apparent touchdown this one for Rondout. But wait a minute there is that red flag again. This time a clipping penalty on the Ganders put them back in another predicament, but Liberty failed to capitalize.

Pioneers Rip Sawyers, 26-7, With Defense, Aerial Bombs

POUGHKEEPSIE — Undefeated Poughkeepsie High combined an aggressive defense with two long aerial thrusts to trounce unbeaten Saugerties High 26-7 Saturday and take a giant step toward the 1968 Dutchess County Scholastic League (DCSL) football championship.

The Pioneers' defensive unit, anchored by Bob Piekarski, Joe Stokes and Nigel Davis, scored one touchdown, set up another and held the explosive Saugerties offense to 84 yards total offense.

Poughkeepsie is now 4-0, all in DCSL play, while Sauugerties has a 3-1 record, 2-1 in league action.

Nigel Davis scooped up a blocked punt on about the Saugerties 35 and raced into the end zone for the Pioneers' first touchdown early in the first period. Piekarski blocked a Tom Christiana punt on the Poughkeepsie 48 and the ball rolled end over end to the Sawyer 35 where Davis picked it up and went in unscathed. The try for extra point was blocked.

With the ball on the Saugerties 47 in the second period, Bill Green took a handoff from quarterback David Jones then fired a 40-yard pass to Jeff O'Neal, who was tackled as he grabbed the ball on the Sawyer 7. Two plays later, Gary Stauderman crashed over the right side from the 5 for the touchdown and kicked the extra point to put Poughkeepsie ahead, 13-0.

A fumble recovery by Rich LaVacca on the Saugerties 9 in the third period set up the Pioneers' third touchdown. Two running plays lost six yards but on third down, Jones flipped a screen pass to Green on the line of scrimmage and he went in for the touchdown. The try for extra point was blocked.

A 54-yard pass play completed Poughkeepsie's scoring for the day in the fourth period. Jones passed from the Pioneer 46 to O'Neal, who hauled the ball in on the Saugerties 20 and went the rest of the way untouched.

The potent Saugerties offense which was expected to make this the game of the season in the DCSL asserted itself only once, in the fourth quarter when Mike Turek rammed over for a TD from the 4 yard line to climax a 79-yard advance in 12 plays. He also ran the extra point.

Roger Praetorius, Saugerties' harddriving fullback, picked up 51 yards in eight carries, but the other Sawyer backs had little luck against the inspired Pioneer defense.

The Sawyers were limited to 40 yards rushing and 44 passing but in the final analysis it was Poughkeepsie defense that e big breaks forced by the turned the game into an unexpected one-sided victory for the Pioneers.

A disappointed Coach Fred Seither of the Sawyers attributed the Saugerties setback to "too many mistakes."

"This was a big one and I thought we were ready," he said. "I really don't think there's that much difference between the teams but we certainly didn't do well. Those two long bombs hurt."

Highland, Marlboro In 7-7 UCAL Tie

HIGHLAND — Marlboro's Bruce Partington had a 15 yard field goal called back in the closing seconds of the fourth quarter here Saturday, and the Duke's had to settle for a 7-7 tie with Highland High School.

Halfback Dale Sutton had put the Dukes on the scoreboard in the second period, and a Partington conversion had given them a 7-0 lead. But a fourth-quarter touchdown and conversion by Highland's Lee Barrington knotted the score and dropped arch-rival Marlboro out of a tie for the lead in the Ulster County Athletic League.

The Iron Dukes are now 2-0-1 in league play, one-half game behind league leading Rondout Valley and one-half game above Liberty High School. Marlboro plays both schools in the next two weeks.

The recalled field goal that set the stage for the deadlock was the result of an illegal procedure penalty. The Dukes, then out of Partington's range, were short on the first down attempt and Highland ran out the clock.

Barrington's 11 yard touchdown run was set up by a fumble recovery and runback deep in Duke territory. Highland's Pierpont Geer picked up a Marlboro fumble on the 45 yard line and carried it down to the Duke 10.

Hookers Crush Dover, 28 to 7

RED HOOK—Ralph Cort came off the injured list to run for two touchdowns and pass for another, as Red Hook crushed Dover, 28-7, in a Bi-Valley League football game Saturday.

The Raiders ran all their plays from a shotgun formation and it paid off. Cort unloaded a 67-yard scoring bomb to Kerry Murphy in the first quarter and followed with a 75-yard burst off tackle.

Wayne Greene capped a 65-yard drive with a seven yard end run to give Dover its only touchdown in the second quarter. The Raiders came back with two TDs in the second half on a 42-yard punt return by Murphy and a 35-yard scoring sprint by Cort.

They also added a safety on a freak play when a Red Hook defender deflected a Dover pass into the hands of a lineman who was tackled in the end zone.

What's the catch? There isn't any.

$1749* is the suggested retail price at the port of entry for the VW sedan.

The price includes the Federal excise tax and import duty.

It also includes the built-in heater/defroster, windshield washer, electric windshield wipers, outside rearview mirror, padded dashboard, armrests and sunvisors, front seat headrests, and seat belts front and back.

Not to mention the new electric rear-window defogger and the new ignition/steering lock. (When the key is removed, the steering wheel is locked in place.)

It's the price of the real thing, not a stripped-down economy model.

What else do you have to pay?

The charge for transporting the car from the port of entry. The dealer delivery charge. And local sales tax.

There is one optional that makes a lot of sense. The automatic stick shift. (It eliminates the clutch pedal.)

Well, that's it.

Unless, of course, you count the cost of gas and oil it takes you to get here in your present car.

Giants Are First Falcon Victims

ATLANTA (UPI)—Substitute quarterback Jim Berry picked up the faltering Atlanta Falcons Sunday with a drive that included a pass to Jerry Simmons that carried 61 yards, to lead the Falcons to a 24-21 upset over the New York Giants.

A crowd of more than 49,000—only slightly less than capacity—cheered to see the Falcons hold off the previously unbeaten Giants in the waning second and end an 11-game losing streak.

It marked a dramatic turn for Coach Norm Van Brocklin, who took over from Norb Hecker less than two weeks ago, to direct the Falcons to their first victory since Oct. 29, 1967 when they defeated Minnesota.

The loss also ruined the homecoming of local hero Fran Tarkenton, the New York quarterback who is an Atlanta resident and who starred at the University of Georgia.

Berry, who came in late in the first half with the Falcons trailing 7-14, drove the Falcons 73 yards in 10 plays, the key a 23-yarder to Paul Flatley at the Giant one-yard line. Perry Lee Gunn ran over for the score with 49 seconds remaining and Bob Etter tied it at intermission with his second of three extra points.

Etter put the Falcons ahead midway in the third period when he kicked a 17-yard field goal after a 56-yard Atlanta drive stalled at the New York 10.

But Tarkenton, who passed 44 yards to Homer Jones and 28 yards to Aaron Thomas for first half scores, drove the Giants 65 yards in 11 plays early in the fourth period, climaxing the drive with a one-yard scoring toss to Jones. Pete Gogolak's third extra point put the Giants out in front 21-17.

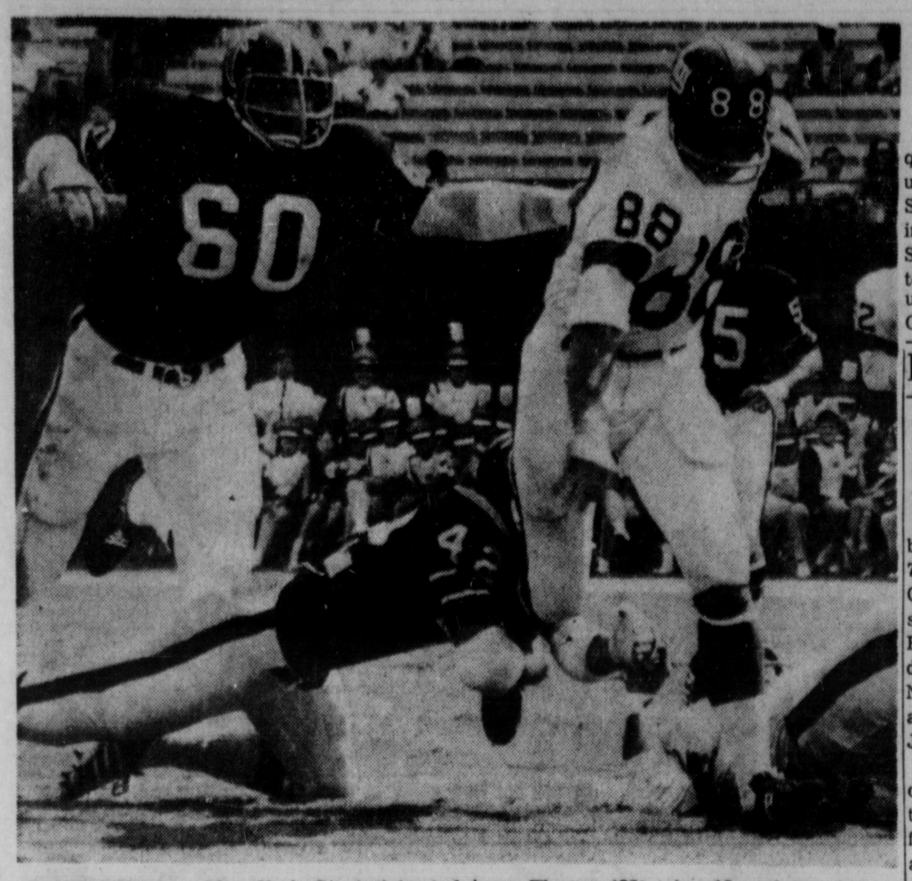

Atlanta returned the following kickoff to its 34. There, on first down, Berry faded back and hurled a strike to Simmons who caught the pass at the New York 17 and dragged a defender 12 yards to the five. Dunn, on fourth down, scored the winning touchdown on a one-foot plunge with 5:59 remaining.

New York drove right back, with Tarkenton passing the Giants to the Atlanta 13. On second down Tarkenton threw for Jones in the end zone but defensive back Lee Calland intercepted the pass at the goal line with just over a minute remaining to preserve the upset.

Atlanta's first score came following the opening kickoff when Randy Johnson, the starting quarterback, led the Falcons 65 yards in 10 plays. Speedy Jim Butler, Atlanta's leading ground gainer, carried on eight of the 10 plays and went the final six yards for the score.

Bad Day for Joe

Jets Intercepted, 21 to 13

NEW YORK (UPI)—Quarterback Steve Tensi connected on a 72-yard scoring pass to Eric Crabtree of the first play of the second half and the Denver Broncos' usually-porous pass defense picked off five Joe Namath passes Sunday to spark a 21-13 upset over the New York Jets.

Tensi, starting his first game of the season, hit Crabtree over the middle at the 40-yard line following the second-half kickoff and the speedy end out-raced Johnny Sample and Jim Hudson to the goal line to give the Broncos a 21-10 lead. It was the longest scoring play of the season for Denver and the Jets never recovered from the shock.

Tensi, one of the nation's leading passers during his collegiate days at Florida State, also set up a three-yard TD run by Fran Lynch with his passes in the first quarter and Lynch also scored on a six-yard run in the second period following the first Denver interception.

Emerson Boozer scored on a five-yard run for the Jets in the first and fourth quarters but the Jets were virtually unable to move the ball against the Broncos.

The Broncos, who had not intercepted a pass in their four previous games, got their first one in the second period when Pete Jaquess picked off an aerial intended for Bill Mathis and returned it 46 yards to the New York 34. Seven plays later Lynch fought his way over from six yards out to put the Broncos ahead for good 14-7.

The Broncos also got two interceptions from Charlie Greer and one from Jack Lentz and John Huart to halt numerous Jet drives in the second half. It was the second time this season that Namath had been victimized by five interceptions and it marked the second year in a row the Broncos intercepted five passes against the Jets.

Namath, playing one of the worst games of his career, was off-target most of the day and might have had a worse completion percentage had it not been for some miraculous catches by Don Maynard and George Sauer.

Hawks Gain 2-2 Tie

NEW Paltz — State with a rugged Oswego State U. University's soccer Hawks did everything but win the ball game in their 2-2 tie Saturday eleven.

Coach Bob Durkins booters had 33 shots to 15 for the visitors but after the second overtime period had been completed it was still a 2-2 deadloik.

Dol Seubert's long, driving shot sent Oswego ahead 1-0 at Paltz tied it 18:8 into the second 17:50 in the first period. New period when Glenn Morehouse headed the ball in after a neat crossover by M Clement Mbadunuju.

Bobby Hoppy sent the Hawks ahead 2-1 on a penalty kick at 6:47 in the third period.

A goal that missed at first enabled Oswego to deadlock the game with 20:45 gone in the third period. An unidentified Oswego player sent the ball flying toward the goal during a wild scramble in front of the net. The ball ricoheted off the crossbar and bounced back into the playing area. Bob Conrad alertly followed up the shot and sent it through the nets.

"It was a tremendous game for the spectators, said Coach Durkin, "but we just couldn't come up with the big play to break the tie.

Goalie Aldo Forte was required to make only nine saves compared to 15 for Loesch of Oswego. The Hawks had eight corner kicks to only one for Oswego and the 33-15 margin in shots taken reflected the obvious superiority of the Hawks which did not show up in the final score.

The tie was the first of the season for New Paltz which now boasts 2 wins, 2 losses and a tie. The next game in Wednesday at Albany State.

Post Mortems Now Green Bay Luxury

By FRED DOWN
UPI Sports Writer

Things are different in the National Football League this season—so different that it's the Green Bay Packers who conduct the post mortems and the other guys who shrug and say, "that's football."

Green Bay defensive star Herb Adderley held the post-mortem and offensive end Jack Snow of the Los Angeles Rams was the non-committal gent Sunday following the Rams' 16-14 victory over the Packers. The Rams won the game on Bruce Gossett's 27-yard field goal with 55 seconds left after a pass interference penalty against Adderley put the ball on the Green Bay 25.

"If I had hit him, I'd be the first to admit it" said Adderley. "The official who called it was about 15 yards away. The most surprised guy in the park must have been Snow. He thought he interfered with me."

But Snow didn't act the least bit surprised about the key call which helped the Rams remain unbeaten and tied with the Baltimore Colts for first place in the Coastal Division. Snow pointed out that the call "was a judgment play and hard for any official to call."

Colts Easy Win

Preston Pearson returned the opening kickoff 96 yards for a touchdown and the Colts went on to an easy 42-14 victory over the San Francisco Forty-Niners enabling them to match the Rams' 5-0 record. Earl Morrall threw touchdown passes of 15 and 33 yards as the Colts built a 28-7 lead and Johnny Unitas entered the game in the fourth period and tossed two more.

The Dallas Cowboys whipped the Philadelphia Eagles, 34-14, for their fifth straight win and took over sole possession of first place in the Capitol Division when the Atlanta Falcons upset the New York Giants, 24-21.

The Detroit Lions defeated the Chicago Bears, 28-10, the New Orleans Saints upset the Minnesota Vikings, 20-17, the St. Louis Cardinals topped the Cleveland Browns, 27-21, and the Washington Redskins scored a 16-13 triumph over the Pittsburgh Steelers in other games.

Don Meredith completed 21 of 38 passes for 306 yards and two early touchdowns for the Cowboys whose defensive unit, led by Larry Cole, Jethro Pugn, Bob Lilly and George Andrie, threw Norm Snead for losses five times and intercepted four passes.

Move Into Tie

Mel Farr starred for the Lions with 138 yards gained rushing and 73 more on pass receptions as the Lions tied the Vikings for first place in the Central Division by raising their record to 3-2. Farr scored the Lions' first three touchdowns.

The Saints took a 14-0 lead in the first period on Bo Burris' 94-yard run with an interception and a four-yard pass from Bill Kilmer to Monty Stickles but needed fourth-period field goals of 38 and 42 yards by Charlie Durkee to beat the Vikings.

Short plunges by Jim Hart and Roy Shivers and field goals of 43 and 21 yards by Jim Bakken enabled the Cardinals to build a 20-7 halftime lead and offset the late heroics of Bill Nelson, who wound up the game with 17 completions in 27 attempts for 311 yards. The Cardinals, Browns and Saints share first place in the Century Division with 2-3 records.

Sonny Jurgensen threw touchdown passes of 17 and 49 yards to Jerry Smith as the Redskins handed the Steelers their fifth straight loss. Jurgensen completed 15 of 29 for 178 yards.

Defense Name of Game In AFL Sunday Action

By STEVE SCHWARTZ
UPI Sports Writer

Defense was the name of the game in the American Football League Sunday but for the first time in 15 league games the Oakland Raiders were the victims.

A strong San Diego defense stopped the Raiders' win streak at 14 games when it held Oakland quarterback Daryle Lamonica to just three completed passes in the second half, stunning the league champions, 23-14.

The Chargers, who hold the AFL's longest win streak at 15 games set in 1960-61, had trouble with their own offense as rookie Dennis Partee's three field goals were the only scores in the rugged second half.

San Diego led 17-14 at halftime as the result of a 38-yard TD pass from John Hadl to flanker Lance Alworth plus Gene Foster's one-yard plunge and Partee's first field goal.

In other games, the Boston Patriots were shut out for the first time in 33 games as Houston blanked them, 16-0; Denver Broncos' usually porous pass defense picked off five Joe Namath passes to spark a 21-13 upset over the New York Jets; and the high scoring Kansas City Chiefs were held to just one touchdown as they beat the Cincinnati Bengals, 13-3.

Miami and Buffalo played to a 14-14 tie Saturday night.

The loss dropped the Raiders into a second place tie in the Western Division with San Diego, both teams having 4-1 records behind leader Kansas City at 5-1.

The sputtering Chiefs rode the sure toe of Jan Stnerud, who kicked field goals of 52 and 46 yards, to get past the stubborn Bengals.

An aroused Houston defense allowed the Patriots across the midfield line only three times the entire game as kicking specialist John Wittenborn provided the Oiler scoring punch with three field goals.

Hitchcockian Story—No Fanfare, Unknowns

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

COPENHAGEN (AP) — Hands folded across his ample belly, Alfred Hitchcock broke his Buddha-like trance, and commanded, "Action!" on his 51st movie.

It was an unlikely location for the beginning of a Hitchcock film: the painting room of the Royal Copenhagen porcelain factory. This was the first of a series of locations that would take him and a film crew from here to Wiesbaden, Germany, Paris, New York, Washington and back to Universal City, Calif. He also intends to acquire some footage in Cuba, but that is a Hitchcockian story that cannot yet be revealed.

Until now the film project has been kept as hush-hush as some of the spy plots in his own movies. Hitchcock has declined interviews and has embarked on the film, based on the Leon Uris best-seller "Topaz," with no fanfare, using virtually an unknown cast. The sole American name is John Forsythe of "Bachelor Father" television fame, who plays a CIA agent.

The leading role of a Frenchman who spies for both the allies and Russia has been given to Frederick Stafford, a Czech who has appeared in a few French films. Costarring is the French actress Dany Robin.

"Topaz" is a faintly fictionized version of a real-life espionage scandal that rocked the Western governments. It is the kind of cloak-and-dagger stuff that Hitchcock relishes.

"I'd say that this is something between 'Suspicion' and 'North by Northwest,'" he remarked after concluding a scene in which a Russian defector discovers she is being followed by secret police.

"It has the same elements, the same widespread action What makes it all the more delicious is that it actually happened."

The use of a largely unknown cast is unusual for Hitchcock, 68, who usually relies on top Hollywood names for his leads. He explained his reasoning:

"This type of story requires unfamiliar faces for believability. I don't want the audience to stop and say, 'Oh, that's Cary Grant.'

"Besides, I have grown tired of paying immense salaries to stars. Both Julie Andrews and Paul Newman received $750,000 for my last picture, 'Torn Curtain'—by the time studio overhead was added, it cost $1,800,000 just for two actors.

"Torn Curtain" cost almost $6 million and made $11 million, which made it all right. But I made 'Psycho' for $800,000 and it grossed $18 million, without big stars. And what about 'Boom,' for which the Burtons received a million dollars apiece? It still did no business—proving that stars don't help."

The book "Topaz" has been viewed with disfavor by the French government, since it implicates high-ranking French officials wth trafficking in allied secrets with the Russians.

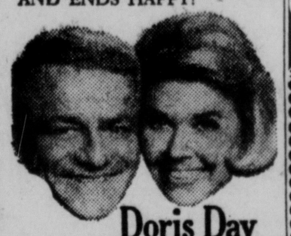

"Despite French disapproval, we secured permission to shoot in Paris," said Hitchcock. "The only thing we had to change in the script was a reference to De Gaulle. We took it out, and that made everything okay."

Off-Duty Policeman Shot by Another Cop

NEW YORK (AP) — Policeman here have been killing themselves off, or wounding one another, at the rate of one incident a month since July, in shooting exchanges apparently based on mistaken identity.

The latest episode occurred Sunday when an off-duty probationary city patrolman was shot to death on a Harlem street in a gunfire exchange with an off-duty Housing Authority cop, who was wounded seriously. Both were in civilian clothes.

It was the fourth such incident in the city since last July, and in each case the policemen shooting it out apparently were unaware of each other's identity as lawmen.

Killed Sunday was Patrolman David Turman, 28, of the Bronx. Police said that shortly before 4 a.m., in front of the Roosevelt Theater at 145th Street and Seventh Avenue, Turman was questioning a suspect at gunpoint.

The scene was witnessed by Housing Authority Patrolman Taylor H. Johnson, 35, of Brooklyn, passing by in a car. Johnson, apparently thinking a robbery was in progress, jumped from his car and ran toward the pair, gun in hand, shouting he was a police officer.

Turman, police said, spun around, and, upon seeing Johnson's gun, fired a shot into the housing patrolman's chest. As Johnson fell, he returned a shot, striking Turman in the chest, police said.

Both victims were taken to Harlem Hospital. Turman was dead on arrival. He had become a probationary officer last April and was a member of the Tactical Patrol Force.

Johnson was listed in serious condition.

No charges were filed against him Sunday.

Police said the man Turman had been questioning corroborated Johnson's version of the incident. Detectives would not disclose the man's identity or say why Turman was questioning him.

Two weeks ago Sunday, a city patrolman shot and wounded a Welfare Department policeman in a darkened Bronx welfare building where the burglar alarm was ringing. The wounded officer was reported recovering.

Lightning Rods Hold Meeting

A meeting of the High Falls Lightning Rods was held Tuesday. Discussion was held on projects for the coming year including photography and landscaping.

The officers for the 1968-69 year are: Michael Warren, president; Thomas Coddington, vice-president and treasurer; Mark Crisman, secretary; Paul Poenicke newsreporter; and song leader Ronald Van Aken.

Other members present were Barry Paetow, Dennis Lowe, Barry Crisman and a new member Leland Johnson.

Pennsy Jurist, Musmanno Dies

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Pennsylvania State Supreme Court Justice Michael A. Musmanno, always colorful in his personal appearance and his opinion, will be buried Wednesday with full military honors at the Arlington National Cemetery in Washington.

Bishop John J. Wright of the Pittsburgh Roman Catholic Diocese will celebrate a requiem mass Wednesday morning at St. Paul's Cathedral in Pittsburgh for the jurist, who died Saturday at the age of 71.

Justice Musmanno, described as "a man of humble beginnings who won international acclaim as a jurist," by Pittsburgh's Mayor Joseph M. Barr, was rushed from his downtown apartment to a hospital Friday, after suffering a stroke.

U.S. Sen. Joseph S. Clark, a Democrat like Musmanno but frequently politically opposed to the jurist, commented:

"Justice Musmanno's death is a real loss to the people of Pennsylvania. For many years he had been most active as a lawyer, as a jurist, as a leader of the Italo-American community and as a friend of labor."

The justice, a son of Italian immigrants, was to have been grand marshal of the Columbus Day Parade in Pittsburgh on the day he died.

AWARDED PINS — Approximately 70 members of the A. H. Wicks Engine and Truck Co. 4 attended a steak dinner at the firehouse recently. A feature of the event was the presentation of pins to past presidents of the volunteer fire unit by Miller F. Locke, incumbent president. Attending the presentation of pins and the dinner were past presidents of the company (L-R) C. John Bechtold, Locke, William C. Davis, James L. Rowe, oldest living past president and Joseph Fassbender. John C. Cook also attended the event. Morton Finch and Ray L. Whitbeck, past presidents, were not present. They will receive their pins later. (Lakeside Studio).

Injured Fatally

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — Scott Cowan, 6, of suburban Clarence, was injured fatally Saturday when he was run over by a small lawn tractor and a rotary mower in a neighbor's yard.

Police said the boy was running along next to the tractor when he fell, and the tractor and the mower it was towing ran over him.

They said Scott's father witnessed the accident.

ATTENTION JOB APPLICANTS
The Kingston Daily Freeman does not knowingly accept Help Wanted ads from employers covered by the Fair Labor Standards Act if they offer less than the legal minimum wage or fail to pay at least time and one-half for overtime hours. The minimum wage for employment covered by the FLSA prior to the 1966 Amendments is $1.60 an hour with overtime pay required after 40 hours a week. Jobs covered as a result of the 1966 Amendments require $1.15 an hour minimum with overtime pay required after 42 hours a week. For specific information, contact the Wage and Hour Office of the U. S. Department of Labor, 881 Gerard Ave., Bronx, N. Y., 10452, WYandotte 2-1235.

IMPORTANT NOTICE: The New York State Law against Discrimination and the Federal Civil Rights Act of 1964 prohibit discrimination in employment because of sex unless based on a bona fide occupational qualification. Help Wanted and Situation Wanted advertisements are arranged in columns captioned "Male" and "Female" for the convenience of readers and are not intended as an unlawful limitation or discrimination based on sex.

Dear Abby

How to Put Nix on Woman

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

(© 1968 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: I am a 44-year-old bachelor. I'm perfectly normal, enjoy the company of women occasionally, but I am not looking for any matrimonial involvements. I live alone in a modest bungalow and enjoy my privacy.

My problem is a very aggressive divorcee who moved in next door. She's not bad looking but she comes on awfully strong. She is a rip-roaring Republican from way back and a big Nixon booster. She started in the usual neighborly manner. If she sees a light in my place she runs over, bringing prepared meals, and an armful of Nixon literature for me to read. She's even offered to cook for me, and do my ironing, but I'm not about to fall into that trap. When she's not talking about Nixon, she's talking about marriage.

Last week I had it, so I moved my refrigerator, stove, and TV down to the basement so she won't know if I'm home, so now she telephones me! What should I do?

NOT INTERESTED

DEAR NOT: Tell her you're going to vote for Hubert and move back upstairs.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I live in a town where recently a couple who had been married 10 years got a divorce. They weren't dovorced 2 months when they decided to get married (to each other) again.

Now I'm all in favor of people getting back together, but I think it should be done quietly.

This couple had a big church wedding with a best man, bridesmaids, and the whole works. They even had a picture and write-up in the newspaper, and when they took off for their honeymoon, their car was all decorated with "JUST MARRIED" signs.

I think this is real asinine. People are laughing behind their backs. A friend of mine says she doesn't see anything wrong with it. To settle an argument, what is your opinion?

HOLBROOK

DEAR HOLBROOK: The sign on the honeymoon car should have read: "JUST REMARRIED." That's my opinion.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I can sympathize with the lady who nearly fainted when her little 4-year-old wanted to buy some "SEX APPEAL" at the tooth paste counter. Color television commercials are even worse. My 2-year-old granddaughter walked right into the TV set and tried to take a donut off the plate.

I spent an hour driving around all over town to find some fresh donuts for her.

Another time she saw someone with a bruised eye and said, "O, you'd rather fight than switch." switch."

NO NAME IN TAFT, CAL.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I am a 10-year-old boy, and I don't have anybody to play with. I asked my mother to get me a brother or even a sister, but she told me not to bother her.

I told her I would be satisfied with a dog, but she said a dog is too much trouble. I had a rabbit once, but it died.

Is there some way I can get my mother to let me have a dog?

LENNY

DEAR LENNY: If your mother's only objection to a dog is the "trouble," write out an "agreement," stating you will take the dog for walks regularly, see that it's fed, and do everything you can to relieve your mother of the work of owning and training a dog. Then sign it. It's worth a try.

* * *

Everybody has a problem. What't yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal., 90069 and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

* * *

Horoscope

By SYDNEY OMARR

It's In The Stars

("The wise man controls his destiny . . . astrology points the way.")

FORECAST FOR TUESDAY OCTOBER 15, 1968

ARIES (March 21-April 19): You get fresh start. Chance exists to correct previous mistake. Make changes. Be daring. Personal magnetism soars. You are sought after — express views. No day to be a shrinking violet.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Family member could report unusual job news. Day features domestic activity. Key is spirit of co-operation. To succeed, you will have to be diplomatic. Otherwise, some close to you rebel.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Movement, travel and change are featured. Element of deception is present. Be perceptive. Find out what people really desire. What some say and do may be completely different.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Be practical about financial affairs. Some home reparis may be necessary. Check details. Be sure where costs are concerned. Choose individual with experience. Beware of false bargains.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Cycle high. But don't trust one who is erratic where driving is concerned. Some are deliberately careless today. Make clear your views. Also, let it be known you are adverse to accidents.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Excitement of discovery prevails. Day could be filled with surprises. Key is to maintain balance, steady pace. Ask questions. Find out why — take nothing for granted. Probe for knowledge.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Friends move about — you may be caught in middle of mild controversy. Trust hunch. Evaluate hopes, wishes. Make necessary concessions. You gain through teaching. Share knowledge.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Good work you performed in past gains current recognition. Influence spreads. Display sense of humor. Avoid bitterness. Accept accolade with good grace. Avoid I-told-you-so posture.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): There are some restrictions which may be necessary. Know this — act accordingly. Friends today have views which lack practicality. Take log-range view. Be self-sufficient.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Accent practicality. Means get feet on solid ground. No day for wishful thinking. Be knowledgeable. Get the facts. Base actions on tools at hand. Attend to essential details.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Keep communication lines clear. Be willing to listen and learn. Don't rush, force or push views. Play waiting game. One at a distance is trying to work on your behalf — appreciate it.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Work and compensation appear to dominate. Question arises as to how much a job, task is worth. Let others make offers. Your own evaluation today could fall short of the mark.

IF TODAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you have great sense of justice. Your sense of appreciation is highly developed, specifically in music and the arts. Roadblocks to progress are about to be removed.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Cycle high for LEO, VIRGO. Special word to AQUARIUS: marriage partener or close associate appears to act in contrary manner. Don't compound error. Be quiet within and mature.

Chance to Err Usually Taken

By Oswald and James Jacoby

Jim: "How did you manage to beat South two tricks at his two-heart contract? Did he revoke?"

Oswald: "He didn't revoke but he made a play that was almost as bad when I gave him a chance on the theory that any time you give a man a chance to make a mistake, he may do so. He won the first trick with dummy's ace of diamonds, led a club and won the trick with the ace after I played the queen. Midge Cutler of Dallas, who was West, played the seven. Now see if you can work out the rest of the play."

Jim: "South must have played the three of trumps. Midge would go up with the ace and lead her three of clubs. You would take your king and give her a ruff. You would play your deuce as a suit preference signal to get her to play another diamond. You would ruff dummy's king and lead a spade to Midge's ace. She would play her 10 of diamonds and declarer would be down one. Now where did you get another trick? Don't tell me! You must have ruffed her trick and led the 10 of spades. Right"

Oswald: "Right. South had shown up with three clubs and it looked as if he was going to show up with three diamonds. If he held five trumps, he would only hold two spades and we weren't going to get another trick in any event. If he only held four trumps, he would have three spades and Midge would only have two. If her other spade were the queen, his only normal play would be to lead his low spade to dummy's king, whereupon her queen would drop. So I ruffed my partner's trick and led the 10 of spades."

Jim: "As you pointed out, South should not have covered your 10 with his jack. If you held the queen of spades, you would not have gone out of your way to end-play yourself by ruffing her trick."

Space, Sports Dominate TV

NEW YORK (AP) — Weekend television was dominated by a space shot and sports—two areas the medium handles with the expertise that comes from long practice and meticulous planning.

Friday's coverage of the Apollo 7 launching went as smoothly for the three television networks as it did for the astronauts. As usual there were the shots of the astronauts going into the spacecraft; the illustrations and simulations of what was going on, and then too, a little suspense as reports came in about the increasing wind velocity which might cause a change of plans.

Tense, Tight Moments

There were those tense, tight minutes near the end of the countdown. Viewers really start breathing normally again only after the rocket is out of sight and those dry, unemotional words, "it's good," are heard from the control center.

ABC started its coverage of the Olympic Games with a two-hour broadcast of the opening ceremonies in the Mexico City stadium on Saturday afternoon.

That was a TV natural—a big, colorful international parade. One of the most moving moments came with the spontaneous and especially warm reception given to the Czechoslovak athletes.

The network had a tougher problem on its hands Sunday when, in one hour's time, it tried to cover, partly live and partly on tape, a few of the many events of the day.

Live coverage was given the running of the finals of the 10,000-meter race, a long affair that became exciting only during the final few laps. The network broke into the middle of it for some taped bits from a U.S.-Spain basketball game. Then, also on tape, was a heat from the men's hurdles and, most exciting, the rowing in which the U.S. crew—Harvard—made a disappointing showing.

Camera Work Excels

The camera work was excellent, the commentators well informed. The difficulty during the two weeks of coverage obviously will lie in deciding which events demand detailed coverage and which can be sketched in with taped excerpts.

CBS' "21st Century" on Sunday consisted primarily of unusual motion picture film taken of the inside of the body. It was made by an instrument called an endoscope which is a long rod with a light on the end which permits a doctor—or an attached movie camera—to look inside.

Viewers saw the delicate and complicated mechanism of the ear; the sophisticated filtering system through which air moves into the lungs, even the convulsive beating of the heart.

"21st Century" is, week after week, one of the most interesting programs and this was one of its best.

Recommended tonight: Bob Hope Show, NBC, 9-10 EDT, with David Janssen, John Davidson and Gwen Verdon; "Mitzi," NBC, 10-11, Mitzi Gaynor's second variety special, with George Hamilton and Phil Harris.

Music has charm and will stir the soul, but the jingle of coins will stir the appetite if you haven't eaten for a day.

A minister came to the Episcopal church of a nearby city to speak.

Rev. Bass (the rector)—Do you wish to wear a surplice?

There is no such thing as a moral or an immoral book. Books are well written or badly written.

"This morning," said the teacher of an early Sunday school class, "the subject of the lesson is Ruth the gleaner. Who can tell me anything about Ruth?"

And Willie piped out in a shrill little voice:

Willie—He cleaned up sixty home runs in one season.

A woman went to a filling station attendant, complaining that her car was jumping. The attendant checked the spark and found that one cylinder wasn't hitting

Mr. Jones (the attendant)—Lady, you have a cylinder missing.

Mrs. Smith—I don't see how that could be. I keep my garage locked all the time.

An old fellow on his deathbed, in making his will, murmured to his lawyer:

Mr. Blank—And to each of my employees who have been with me 20 years or more I bequeath $10,000.

Lawyer Black—Holy smoke! What generosity!

Mr. Blank—No, not at all. You see, none of them have been with me over a year, but it will look good in the papers, won't it?

A woman called the power company office and complained that her bill was too high. The company checked the meter and wiring, and reported nothing was wrong.

A couple of days later the woman called to apologize, saying she had found the trouble. "I found a socket without a light bulb in it, and the electricity must have leaked out of there," she explained.

City Beat

By HUGH REYNOLDS
Freeman City Hall Reporter

We've heard some ridiculous rumors in our tenure at The Freeman but this latest one is really a gasser. Ray Garraghan for state Democratic chairman?

They can't mean our Ray Garraghan. It may be the Ray Garraghan who tried to get the Republican nomination for mayor last year. Or the Ray Garraghan who's such a loyal party man that he couldn't get his city hall passed in the 13-member Common Council despite the fact he had a majority of eight Democrats and needed nine votes to win.

Our Ray Garraghan is definitely the Lone Ranger when it comes to politics and he who travels alone travels fastest — away from party support.

We just wonder where those rumors came from. The Republicans?

* * *

STAN PETRO, despite his unfledging loyalty to Garraghan, has always been considered a good Democrat. Witness the stickers on his vintage station wagon shouting the election of Gorman, Woolley, Streifer and Quick. Some wags have intimated to this column that Petro uses the stickers to keep his ancient heap from falling apart.

However, stickers are not enough. One has to contribute time and money to the party. Petro gave the former, unexpectedly, at a recent Rotary Club luncheon. Stan invited Dr. Gorman to a Rotary meeting as his guest and as is customary, introduced the assembly candidate to his fellow members.

Petro was brief, and partisan, introducing Gorman as the next assemblyman from the 99th District. Lou Smith, Rotary president, came back with, "And that'll cost you two dollars, mister."

Theres no politicking at Rotary meetings.

* * *

SPEAKING OF POLITICS, things appear fairly quiet on the aldermanic scene except for Lou Smith, Fifth Ward Republican hopeful, and Cliff Sinsabaugh, 10th Ward Democrat, trading ideas on the definition of a full-time alderman. Some issue!

Joe Epstein may not be a candidate but he's certainly in the race, several of them. Joe is working with Sinsabaugh and Emillio Primo, Downtown, and Florence Ludlow, Uptown. Joe's support for Mrs. Ludlow is in the form of phone calls to some of his friends in her ward where's she involved in a tough race with Pete Fisher, the Republican. Jim Carroll, former 10th Ward supervisor, is also helping Flo.

The vitality of Epstein, who's approaching the Biblical three score, ten, is amazing.

* * *

Finally, in our last column, we cast the evil eye on political dinners that start late and feature windy speakers. We were referring to the Democratic City Dinner held at the Walnut Grove last month.

We've since learned from a number of persons that it wasn't the fault of the restaurant for the late start on the dinner. The blame has been placed on some members of the dinner committee who requested that the dinner be held up. Reason? Only about 50 persons were there at the announced starting time of 6:30 p.m.

Now, about those windy speeches.

Land, Sea and Air Strikes at Viet Cong

SAIGON (UPI)—U.S. land, sea and air forces today battled a Viet Cong unit caught on a river bank below Saigon, American spokesmen said.

They said at least 24 Communists—and no Americans—had been killed in the fighting 30 miles below the capital.

The fighting has raged since Division patrol spotted the guerrillas and drove them across rice paddies.

U.S. Army helicopter gunships and Navy patrol boats converged on the tributary of the Mekong River, hitting the Viet Cong from one side as the infantrymen attacked from the other.

The battling marked an allied drive against the guerrilla bands moving agains the g bands moving around the capital, attacking small posts. U.S. B52 Stratofortresses Sunday dropped 450 tons of bonbs on VietCong attack routes 25, 31 and 40 miles north of Saigon.

South Vietnamese troops killed another 40 Viet Cong and captured 12 more in a Sunday fight 92 miles below Saigon.

Chase Remnants

Far north of Saigon, in the An Hoa Valley, South Vietnamese Army troops chased the remnants of an 8,000-man North Vietnamese division retreating from the American Special Forces camp at Thuong Duc.

The camp had been under siege for 15 days. The North Vietnamese before dawn Sunday tried two final assaults against the mushrooming allied force mustered in the Thuong Duc area.

Red Toll 400

The allies killed more than 40 Communists before the North Vietnamese began falling back.

"I believe there is now no longer any danger to the Thuong Duc camp," a U.S. official told UPI correspondent Ray Wilkinson in the battle area.

American spokesmen said at least 400 North Vietnamese died in the campaign around Thuong Duc. Allied losses included 22 Americans and 27 South Vietnamese killed.

Paris Talks In 6th Month

PARIS (UPI)—The American-North Vietnamese talks on Vietnam today entered their sixth month and Hanoi blamed the United States anew for the deadlock in the discussions.

The talks opened in May, aimed at cooling down the Vietnam war enough to begin a full peace conference. Diplomats on each side have reported no progress.

"There has appeared no progress in the Paris talks since its start and this is because the United States has been stubbornly rejecting the unconditional halt to bombing which is the only solution for proceeding the talks," said the North Vietnam Communist party newspaper Nhan Dan today in an editorial broadcast from Hanoi.

The United States has said it would end the bombardment, by sea and air forces, only if Hanoi in turn made some gesture of wanting peace. Hanoi has refused.

Nhan Dan today said if the United States immediately ends the bombardment it may be possible for the talks here to make progress.

Neutral observers in Paris said they still believe President Johnson may end the bombardment or make some other gesture before the American presidential elections in November to get the talks rolling.

Week Long Honors for Ike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower turned 78 today, celebrating along with a nation that will honor him throughout the week.

'Miraculous Comeback'

The five-star general, still a patient at the Army's Walter Reed General Hospital, has been rated as having made a "miraculous" comeback so far from a mid-August heart attack —perhaps the worst of seven he's suffered since 1955.

The word "miraculous" was used recently by Lt. Gen. Leonard D. Heaton, the army surgeon general, to describe Eisenhower's recovery.

There was no advance word on any birthday celebration plans at the hospital itself where Eisenhower, for some time now, has been allowed to sit up in a chair for about a half hour several times a day.

But, in effect, the country began celebrating the old warrior's birthday Sunday—the beginning of "America's Salute To Eisenhower Week," as proclaimed by President Johnson Sept. 14.

President Johnson, on the day he issued the proclamation, said America "has always spoken with one voice and affection for a beloved leader"—Eisenhower.

"Dwight David Eisenhower," he said, "led us bravely in war. He served us devotedly and well in peace.

Another Tribute

"Always he committed the gifts of his heart and the wisdom of his leadership to the strength of America's unity. Throughout his lifetime of duty, he has shown us the qualities that we admire most in our fellow man, the qualities of greatness that run deep in the spirit and the history of America—honor, courage, compassion, integrity."

Johnson paid another tribute to Eisenhower Sunday when he signed a bill—"on behalf of a grateful nation"—authorizing up to $5 million in matching grants to Eisenhower College in Seneca Falls, N.Y.

The liberal arts school was founded in 1965 as a living memorial to the former chief executive.

For Vietnam

Army, Marines: Involuntary Tours

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — For the first time, the Army and Marines are sending thousands of men back for involuntary second tours to Vietnam.

The Army plans to return about 18,000 this year, the Marines some 6,000.

A Trickle to Date

Until this year, the number of nonvolunteers ordered to a second round of war service has amounted only to a trickle.

But this has changed because of the length of the war, the high manpower turnover stemming from the one-year duty tour in Vietnam, and the tight supply of seasoned officers and noncommissioned officers.

Many career servicemen also are becoming eligible for involuntary second tours in Vietnam because they have been away from the war zone for at least two years.

The Army, Marines and Navy had set that as the hoped-for interval between tours, although some exceptions had been made in such scarce skills as helicopter pilots. The Air Force has had no specific interval policy, but has tried to give everybody a turn before tapping men for second tours.

Another Effect

The involuntary second tour trend will affect career servicemen rather than draftees because young men serving two-year draft hitches may not be returned to the war.

The Army contingent will include 4,950 officers mostly in the captain-major-lieutenant colonel bracket, and 12,900 enlisted men, chiefly senior noncommissioned officers.

The Marine returnees will include 1,000 officers and 5,000 enlisted men.

Between them, the Army and the Marine Corps account for about 80 per cent of the 540,500 American servicemen in Vietnam.

Biggest Problem for Marines

With a 50,000-man-a-month turnover, the Army and Marines have the biggest problem in maintaining a flow of key officers and noncoms to Southeast Asia.

The Air Force this year is sending only about 150 noncommissioned officers back to Vietnam on involuntary second tours.

A spokesman said the Air Force "has just now reached the point where in coming months it will become necessary to return some enlisted specialties for second tours."

The Navy said it does not expect to send any officers or enlisted men to Vietnam for involuntary second tours for the rest of this year, although last July about 230 Navy seabees who had finished previous war tours earlier than 1966 were ordered to return.

Conference Ends

No British-Salisbury Settlement

By FRED COLEMAN

GIBRALTAR (AP) — The British-Rhodesian conference ended Sunday night with no prospect of a settlement, but British Prime Minister Harold Wilson and Rhodesian Premier Ian Smith agreed to consult their governments and keep in touch.

The four days of deadlocked summit talks ended with a joint statement saying "a very wide gulf still remains" between the British government and the white minority government which proclaimed the African territory's independence three years ago to preserve white rule.

The basis issue remains unresolved: Britain's demand for unimpeded progress toward rule of Rhodesia by the four million black Africans instead of by the 220,000 whites.

Smith's unilateral declaration of independence from Britain in November 1965 remains illegal as far as Britain is concerned. British and U.N. economic sanctions have weakened Rhodesia's thriving economy.

Smith is now committed to a new Rhodesian constitution that will push his nation toward South Africa and virtually exclude the possiblity of a settlement with Britain.

The British terms again demanded constitutional arrangements to advance Rhodesia's black majority steadily to power, while Smith insisted once more that majority rule cannot come to Rhodesia in the next 100 years.

Wilson also demanded constitutional guarantees to prevent an independent Rhodesian government from rescinding rights granted the blacks and immediate progress toward ending racial discrimination.

Esopus Creek Film Showing Set Wednesday

The film, The Return of Esopus Creek will be shown at the Ulster County Office Building Wednesday 7:45 p. m. by the Lower Esopus Waterway Committee.

Huyler Van Wagenen Sr., Chairman, said the film is for members and those who gave donations. The public including all candidates running for office this fall may attend also, the chairman said.

There will be no admission charge and the committee members will serve as ushers.

Religious Barrier

WOLVERHAMPTON, England (UPI)—Doormen at a Sikh temple refused entry Sunday to two ambulance attendants on an emergency mission because they would not honor a religious law that they remove their shoes first. After 35 minutes, the ambulancemen pushed their way inside and evacuated a woman who had collapsed during prayer.

Nun Beatified

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—A German nun who died on Christmas Day of 1907 was beatified Sunday, the first German accorded the second highest order of Roman Catholicism since the Reformation divided Christianity in the 1500s.

The King of Sweden was among the witnesses at ceremonies honoring Theresa von Wuellenweber, known as Mary of the Apostles. She founded the women's missionary order of the Sisters of the Divine Saviour 80 years ago.
